

WASHINGTON QUIZ

Q—Will the Senate continue the investigation into the appointment or nomination of Mr. Allen Whitfield to be a member of the Atomic Energy Commission?
 A—Likely not. Mr. Whitfield withdrew his name before final action was taken, so is no longer a contender for the post. Some members of the investigating committee were not pleased with Mr. Whitfield's given reasons for withdrawing his name. For instance Whitfield said some questions asked him were of an extraordinary nature that would involve a question of breach of legal ethics. Some would like to have the public judge whether they would so involve, but the majority likely will now let the matter drop.

Q—Two years ago I applied for disability compensation, but I never kept the appointment for physical examination with Veterans Administration. Can I still file my application?
 A—Yes, you can file a new application. If approved, payments would begin as of date of the new application, not the old one.

Q—How many states were territories before admittance into the Union?
 A—Twenty-eight. Seven were admitted without having been territories.

Q—Can you tell me what state has the smallest legislature?
 A—Nebraska. It has a unicameral legislature of one House consisting of 43 members. One of our smaller states has the largest legislature, New Hampshire, with a population of about 600,000, has a senate with 24 members and a House with 399 members.

Q—When was the last impeachment charge made against a cabinet officer?
 A—Against Andrew Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury in the Harding, Coolidge and Hoover administrations. The House Judiciary Committee heard the charge in 1932, but before final action was taken, Mr. Mellon resigned.

The average size American home uses about 10,500 board feet of lumber, the annual growth on only 15 acres of Douglas fir region forest lands.

Tin, together with lead, bismuth and cadmium, forms fusible metals with low melting points which are used in automatic fire alarms and sprinkler systems.

The mammoth size of the electric shovels used in strip mining of bituminous coal can readily be seen in the fact that one such shovel, with a 50-cubic yard capacity, could load 48,000 railroad hopper cars each month.

There are 1 1/2 million home gardens in the United States today.
