MAY Tech Authority Lists Barriers To Continued Education

By Dr. C. M. Blake Jr.
It has been said, and truthfully I believe, that everyone has educational needs. Some of these needs are met through the elementary and high school; others are met through college and university education; still others may be met through special schools which include Community Colleges and Technical Institutes.

Each person may have his own list of barriers to continued education. Indeed, there are many barriers. From among the many barriers, the following three seem to be rather well documented: (1) geographical, (2) financial, and (3) motivational.

Geography many times is a factor in determining whether or not a large proportion of high school graduates will attend an institution offering post-high school education. In other words, some citizens have a very distinct advantage over their contemporaries in post-high school educational opportunities simply because an institution happens to be located nearby. Studies show that more people will avail themselves of the opportunity for continued education when an institution is located within their geographical area.

Mayland Technical Institute helps to reduce this common barrier to continued education.

Financial obstacles combined with distance also constitute a barrier to attendance at a post-high school institution. The rising cost of higher education is a well-known fact. When students can live at home, and where there are possibilities of student work programs, and student aids are available, more students are able to continue their education.

Mayland Technical Institute makes it possible for students in the Tri-County area to attend a post-high school institution with a minimum of cost. Tuition is only $32.00 per quarter or $128.00 for a school year. In addition to lower cost, students may live at home and commute. Other financial assistance will be available too.

Motivation for continued education is the third barrier and is much harder to eliminate because it is an individual matter. When people begin to realize that there is a direct relationship between employment opportunities and education, and that job opportunities for the trained person are increasing but jobs for the undereducated are decreasing, then they may become motivated to pursue career education designed to prepare them for jobs with a future.

Among the many barriers to continued education, these three—geographical, financial and motivational—seem to be the most prevalent. Mayland Technical Institute helps lessen these barriers for the people of Mitchell, Avery and Yancey Counties.

Mayland Technical Institute has been notified of approval for enrollment of Veterans and other persons eligible for enrollment under title 38-U.S. Code for the following programs: Business Administration, Secretarial, Automotive, Mechanics, and High School Diploma program. Approval for the first three is effective February 14, 1972. The adult high school diploma program has been approved since January 1st. Approval for the Practical Nursing Program will be sought prior to the opening of the fall term.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I would like to contact any of my mother's relatives who live near Burnsville or Ramseystown. Is it possible to have an item in your paper asking them to write to me?

My ancestors were Stephen Edwards who married Lucinda Roland. They lived in Egypt Township in 1860. Their son James Edwards married Clarissa Mashburn. They died within 3 days of each other, about 1896.

Their daughter, Eliza Edwards, was my grandmother. She married John Clark Johnson in 1879. My mother was born to them 1882.

Mary L. Johnson, mother of John Clark, was widow of Andrew Johnson who died as a Union soldier in Civil War. Mary L. Johnson was a doctor-not a midwife. She travelled by horse and buggy, treating and caring for those who were ill. My mother said she had enormous doctor book which she always took with her. She died in or near Burnsville in December, 1902.

I would like very much to hear from any descendants of Edwards, Roland, Mashburn or Johnson families and anyone who can give me information about the Roland Cemetery west of Burnsville.

I truly appreciate any help you can give me.

Sincerely,
Mrs. J. M. Duffendoffer
