Linda Stalcup, Glenda Little Win Cherokee Dress Revue

By Thelma M. Wheeler

The County 4-H Dress Revue was held Friday, May 31, at 1:30 p.m. at the Murphy Power Board Building.

This event is held annually to give the 4-H Club members participating in the clothing projects an opportunity to model their garments and to compete for county winner.

In order for all age groups to be represented there are two divisions; the junior group including those members under 14 years of age and the senior division those girls 14 years as of January 1, 1963.

The junior winner this year was Glenda Little of the Cane Creek 4-H Community Club and runner-up was Patsy Anderson of the Bellview Junior Community Club. Glenda received a beautiful piece of black print drip dry cotton donated by Faylo's Cloth Shop, and Patsy's material was an everglaze stripe cotton given by The Fabric Shop.

Senior winner was Linda Stalcup of the Bellview Senior Community Club and her material was an original Wamsutta print cotton given by the County 4-H Council. The alternate senior winner was Brenda Stalcup of the Bellview Senior Community Club and she received a lovely striped cotton made by Springmaid and donated by Lena's Department Store.

Mrs. S. J. Gernert of the Valleytown Home Demonstration Club served as judge, assisted by the Home Economics Extension Agent. Shortly after the winners were announced the Cherokee Scout Photographer took pictures which appear elsewhere in this week's edition.

Refreshments of lime sherbet punch and cookies were served by Mrs. Randolph Shields and Mrs. T. E. Anderson.

Linda Stalcup will represent Cherokee County in the District Dress Revue on June 12, at District Demonstration Day, to be held at Clyde A. Erwin High School, Asheville. She will model the winning garment which is a solid pink sheath cotton worn with white accessories and classified as a garment suitable for street wear or church.

30-Acre Industrial Site Is Bought By Development Group

MURPHY - The Cherokee County Development Corp. purchased a 30-acre industrial site near the mouth of Cane Creek on U. S. Highway 64 west of Murphy on Monday, June 3. The land was sold at auction by TVA.

The site, located on the left side of the highway three miles from Murphy will be used for industrial purposes.

The development group paid the minimum acceptable price of $5,200.

The sale of this property culminated a year's work by members of the county development group. The property was given by TVA years ago to the U. S. Forest Service, The Forest Service, working with local people, requested the forestry division of the Dept. of Agriculture to return the land to TVA so that it could be sold as surplus land.

Members of the county group worked many months with TVA officials, Congressman Roy A. Taylor, Forest Service personnel in setting up the sale of this property. Pete Hanlon, supervisor of N. C. National Forest, and Bunch Nugent, district forest ranger, pushed the project through the Agriculture department.

Margaret Studios, Inc., of Murphy is expected to be the first occupants of the 30-acre site. This woodware manufacturing firm expects to expand its operation at the new site. A roadside gift shop will be the feature attraction of the new plant.

C. L. Alverson of Murphy is president of the Cherokee County Development Corp. Merle Davis, a member of the Development Corp., and the Cherokee County Planning Board, also worked actively on this project.

Miss Shirley Blankenship Is Crowned Dairy Princess

HAYESVILLE - Miss Shirley Blankenship of Hayesville, was crowned Dairy Princess of Clay County for 1963 on Saturday night, June 1, at the Hayesville High School Auditorium. Shirley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Blankenship.

Miss Elizabeth Garrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Garrison of Hayesville, was first runner-up; second runner-up was Miss Barbara Adams, daughter of Mrs. Frances Mason of Brasstown.

Miss Judy Penland, Dairy Princess for 1962 was present to crown her successor, and assist Mr. Alvin Penland, Master of Ceremonies, in awarding prizes to all contestants. Cash awards of $15, $10, and $5 were presented to the top three winners. Silver dollars were given to all participants.

As County Dairy Princess, Shirley will participate on Friday evening, June 7, in the Area Judging. It will be held at the Manor Hotel in Asheville, and at the Westgate Shopping Center at 8:15 p.m.

Unaka Club Reports Progress On Project

UNAKA - The Unaka Community Development Club held its third meeting Saturday, June 1, at 8:00 p.m. at the Unaka Elementary School. Twenty-one members attended the meeting and discussed work which has already been done on the projects selected by the community. Beautification of the church cemetery has been given top priority and the work has been going on nicely, however, work is yet to be done, a club spokesman said.

The Unaka Church cemetery is one of Cherokee County's oldest. Up to this time, this cemetery has been one of the county's most neglected, but will be the most beautiful when the community completes its work. The responsibility for seeing that this is done has been given to Willis Beaver.

Beautification of the roadsides will soon get underway with much of the responsibility being given to a group of young people who have shown much community spirit and willingness to accept and accomplish whatever task is given them to do. Unaka is proud of their 4-H Club and believes the roadside beautification project is in good hands.

Cecil Jones was selected as chairman of the health and safety committee. His first task was finding a suitable location for a community trash camp. It is anticipated by those who know Mr. Jones that in a very short time a dump will be located, and will need only cooperation of the community to be successful.

The Unaka Community Development Club would like to extend an invitation to members of any other community who would like to see first hand what can be accomplished by a community through the cooperation of its members.

The next meeting will be held Saturday night, July 6, at eight p.m. at the Unaka Elementary School.

DAMAGED WALL of the Murphy Carnegie Library was being reconstructed this week. This work began the day following the collapse of the rear wall of the building. The wall collapsed has been blamed on heavy rains which followed extensive excavations in the basement of the building for a fire station to house Murphy's new fire truck.

The rear wall will be replaced. A new fire station at the rear of the library is contemplated. This project has not been approved however by the Murphy town board, C. E. Johnson, town clerk, said.

Smith and Jones Construction Co. have been employed by the town on an emergency forced account agreement. The extreme necessity of starting repair work immediately was brought about due to the hazards of the building collapsing further. (Scout Photo)
