Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:
In reply to your recent editorial on the use of Unmarked Patrol Cars, let me point out the following information:
1. General Statute 20-190 (in part) states that not less than 75% of the motor vehicles operated by the State Highway Patrol shall be painted a uniform color of Black and Silver. This leaves only a small portion of the cars unmarked.
2. For the laws of any state to be effective they must be enforced. Records will show that the unmarked cars are effective in an enforcement program. Marked cars slow down a speeding driver only a short distance and then resumes his speeding on the highways, a Potential Killer.
3. All unmarked cars are equipped with a red light (dash mounted) and a siren. At night the siren must be used to halt a motorist on the highway.
4. When traveling motorists and tourists see the signs "Unmarked Police Cars Patrolling" it gives him fair warning that if he violates the law he is subject to arrest. He will then be on the lookout for speed limits, stop signs and passing zones. He keeps in mind that a State Trooper in an unmarked vehicle may be watching him.
5. The primary function of the State Highway Patrol is to enforce the Motor Vehicle Laws of N. C. and protect the motoring public by doing so. With our ever increasing traffic we must use everything available to keep our death toll down. Unmarked cars, radar, speed watches, camera cars, and checking stations are some of the many things used in a traffic law enforcement program.
Let me assure you, and your readers, that the State Highway Patrol does not, nor has not used a quota system. I think the investigation will prove this. Thank you for your interest in Highway Safety, and for your comments on the Patrol.
Sincerely,
Trooper D. W. Reavis
NCHP, Murphy, N. C.
