Andrews Special Education Class To Offer Handicrafts At Bazaar

ANDREWS - The Special Education Class of Andrews Elementary School, instructed by Mrs. Agnes Price, will hold a bazaar Friday and Saturday of this week at the Nantahala Power and Light Co.'s office building here.

The bazaar will begin at noon Friday and last until 5:00 p.m. and will continue from 9:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. Saturday.

Members of the class have made many useful and decorative articles during the school year, and these articles will go on sale at the bazaar, with proceeds from the sale to be used to buy materials for the class.

Some of the hand-crafted articles made by the students to be on sale are large magazine racks, spool tables, whatnot shelves, pot holders made from loopers, aprons, smocks, cushions, covered coat hangers, pocketbooks, baskets made from popsicle sticks, jewelry, jewelry and sewing boxes, wall plaques and other articles.

With the class so busy 'manufacturing' the articles, Mrs. Price explains there is a constant need for materials, and the sale should provide funds to supplement the limited budget for the class.

Mrs. Price has shown much ingenuity in utilizing free or inexpensive materials for the students to use in their work.

She holds a B. S. degree from Western Carolina College and she took special training there last summer for instructors in Special Education Work.
