BIBLE QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

By Tom Ledbetter
Andrews Church of Christ

QUESTION: Do you believe there should be just one church?

ANSWER: I certainly do, not from my way of thinking or my opinion, but from the New Testament teachings.

Christ said, "I will build my church." How many should this possibly be? He said that all men should be one (Jn. 17:21).

Paul said that there is one body (Eph. 4:4-6) of which Christ is the head (Eph. 1:22-23), and all of us understand how many one is. He preached that all should speak the same thing so that there would be no divisions (1 Cor. 1:10). The Bible teaches nowhere that there is more than one church.

June Courses To Begin At Folk School

BRASSTOWN - Mr. and Mrs. Georg Bidstrup announce the 34th Annual Recreation Short Course at the John C. Campbell Folk School to be held June 22-26.

Musicians are Philip Merrill, Music Director of the Country Dance Society of America, and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Wood of Brasstown and Sarasota.

The Recorder Short Course is held the following week, June 29-July 3, under the leadership of Eric Lieber, musician and recorder teacher in New York.

Although outside registrations are above normal this year, a spokesman for the school said there is still space available in both courses for local people over fourteen years of age.

For further information you can contact or call the Folk School.
