AND CLAY COUNTY PROGRESS
Murphy, North Carolina

Dear Mr. Owens:

It gives me particular pleasure to extend my greetings and congratulations upon the occasion of the 75th "Diamond" Anniversary of THE CHEROKEE SCOUT. When a newspaper celebrates an anniversary, it is vastly more than a mere calendar milestone to be noticed today for so long as the press of our nation remains free, so will our people.

The people of Murphy, Cherokee County, and surrounding communities, have united their talents to bring about remarkable progress and growth.

These citizens and your newspaper appropriately share commendations for the many forward-looking programs and projects by which you are identified.

With best wishes for a memorable anniversary and many happy returns, I am

Sincerely,
Roy A. Taylor, M.C.

Dear Mr. Owens:

It is a pleasure for me to have this opportunity to extend my sincere congratulations to The Cherokee Scout upon the celebration of its 75th "Diamond" Anniversary.

It is hard to measure adequately the contribution The Cherokee Scout has made to the continuing growth and progress of Murphy and Cherokee and Clay Counties.

In days past, I have been privileged to hold court in Clay County and to visit in Cherokee and Clay Counties. I have carried with me many fond memories of the cooperative and progressive spirits exhibited by your readers and exemplified by the record of The Cherokee Scout.

With all kind wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,
Sam J. Ervin, Jr.

Dear Mr. Owens:

On the occasion of the Diamond Anniversary of the Cherokee Scout, I join your other readers in all parts of North Carolina in congratulating you and your entire staff.

The Town of Murphy and Cherokee County have made outstanding progress during the last 75 years. The potential for progress during the coming years is even greater.

Along with your other readers, I shall look forward to learning of this progress through the pages of the Cherokee Scout.

With best wishes always,

Sincerely,
Terry Sanford

Dear Jack:

I would like to take this opportunity to extend my very best wishes to the Cherokee Scout on its Diamond Anniversary.

For seventy-five years your fine newspaper has led the way in bringing about tremendous development of the vast resources of Western North Carolina, and I know that this will continue to be the policy of your paper in the future.

Again I express best wishes and extend to you a cordial "Happy Birthday."

With all best regards,

Sincerely,

Mr. Jack T. Owens, Publisher
Cherokee Scout and Clay County Progress
Murphy, North Carolina

Dear Mr. Owens:

This is to congratulate you and your associates on the celebration of the 75th Anniversary of the Cherokee Scout. The Scout has been Murphy's weekly newspaper since July 30, 1889.

It has always been my thinking that the Cherokee Scout has devoted itself to the building of Murphy and Western North Carolina. To my knowledge the paper has never been the spokesman of privilege and selfishness.

Progress in Western North Carolina is evident everywhere. Everywhere there is more and more change and the Cherokee Scout has kept pace with the progress and growth of Murphy and this area, from the old hand set type to today publishing a paper by photo-offset, the very latest in newspaper publishing.

Mr. Phil Buchheit, Jerue and Phyllis Sabb and Jack T. Owens all of us at the Citizens Bank & Trust Company send warmest regards and our very best wishes for your continued progress and success in the years to come.

Cordially yours,
W. Frank Forsyth
Assistant to the President
