Your Weekly Horoscope

January 29 through February 4

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Has some big bully been kicking sand in your face, Ari? Try flexing your intellectual muscles and that bully will leave you alone. Week excellent for new ideas to materialize. On last two days of week, keep both your mouth and your wallet closed.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): This is a week when you could yield safely to romantic lures, Taurus old chum. Just remember that as passion comes in the door, reason flies out the window. Solution to dilemma? Elementary, my dear Taurus. Simply lock the windows. (But for mercy's sake, allow the door to stay open. At least until your guest arrives.)

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Wheee, Gem, I can hear the violins playing. You're in for a really dandy week, so enjoy, enjoy. You tend to be somewhat of a fussybudget, you know, and this doesn't exactly encourage romance. Kick all negative thoughts out. They only occupy valuable space. Like the olive in a martini.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Cram that intelligent head of yours with data in coming week. It will be extremely useful to you before the first day of spring. Rathole a few bucks for that rainy day which is coming up. One born under the sign of Taurus may need your help late in week. Give it. And without any strings attached.

LEO (July 23-August 22): Complex financial arrangement seems to become even more snarled in week ahead. Keep your wits about you. The setback will be temporary. One who is almost as clever as you may challenge you on last day of week. Do not be over-powered by forcible rhetoric.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): Week ahead should be rather profitable. In more ways than one. You will learn a lesson in coming week, Virg, which will stick with you for the rest of your days. Love peeks around the corner.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): Olga hates to be an old 'west blanket' Libra, but you must be warned not to press your luck in week ahead. Drift with the prevailing winds. Intrigue waits in ambush.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): Your desire to always have something challenging to do could lead you into a quagmire before mid-week, Scorp. Best you postpone plans for adventure until a more favorable time. You Scorps surge with energy, so before week is over use your vitality to ease heavy burden of one who is close to you.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): A turning point is about to be reached, Sag. If no doubt concerns a matter which had its beginning early last year. It will be of a personal nature. You would be wise to take someone you trust into your confidence. Fear not. They will not betray you.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): Uncertainty is in the stars concerning loved one. This person may prove difficult to fathom. Don't wear your heart on your sleeve, Cap. And don't press for any definite commitment. Remain cool, but not cold.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): Week coming up is packed with fun. So be ready. Pleasure abounds. But don't be piggy. You have all of your tomorrows, you know. On evening of last day of week hit the feathers early.

PISCES (February 19-March 20): Shape up, Pisces. If you've been shilly-shallying all winter trying to make an important decision, get on with it. Make up your mind and then forget it. If you have not seen your doctor in the past twelve months, call this week for an appointment.
