

BUILD A COMMUNITY

You are invited to an unprecedented gathering of people whose common goal is to make life better for North Carolinians.

Announcing North Carolina's first statewide conference for board and staff members of nonprofits and foundations.

Philanthropy '94

October 21, 1994
9AM - 5:30PM
Durham, North Carolina

*An unprecedented opportunity to meet others working to make North Carolina a better place to live and work.
An opportunity to talk about common issues and concerns.
A chance to share ideas and experiences.
The conference will include a day of speakers and workshops that will examine the crucial role of stewardship in philanthropy.
You will not want to miss Philanthropy '94.*

Keynote Speaker: Nannerl O. Keohane, President, Duke University

And introducing the annual State of Philanthropy in North Carolina Address.
To be presented this year by Tom Lambeth, Executive Director, Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation.

WORKSHOP TOPICS:

Selecting, Developing and Involving the Board	Board-Staff Relations
Fundraising and Giving	Managing Growth
Strategic Planning	Communication Strategies
Partnerships that Work	Ethics in a Changing World

Hosted by Philanthropy Journal of North Carolina and
The News and Observer Foundation

For registration information, please contact Kate Foster or Marguerite LeBlanc at (919) 829-8991