Mrs. Elmer Whitt is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Allen, of Roxboro, Route. She is a graduate of Roxboro high school. She now holds a position with the Quality Shop.

Mr. Elmer Whitt, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Whitt. He holds a position with Piedmont Furniture Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitt will make their home in Brookdale, N. C.

Zacky Gentry Host To Playmates

Master Zacky Gentry was host to his playmates at a Hallowe'en party Thursday evening at his home on Chub Lake street.

The goblins held sway in the rooms decorated in a becoming manner in jack o'lanterns and the black cats of the witches. Several Hallowe'en games were played. At an appropriate time a ghost and witch told them several ghost stories to calm their fears.

The guests were served ice cream by the host's mother. They were given suckers and balloons as favors.

The guest were: P. T. Wilkins, Dewey Young, Tom Thaxton, Bobby and Leon Long, Lawrence Moore, George Wesley Gentry.

Hallowe'en Party

Little Miss Bobby Ann Hall was hostess to a Hallowe'en party Friday afternoon at her home on Court street.

Each guest was dressed in Hallowe'en costumes. Various games were played. The hostess' mother served the guests hot chocolate, peanuts, cookies, and sandwiches.

The following guests received a hat and horn for favors: Misses Elizabeth Newell, Hilda Blanks, Lawrence Moore and Betty Ann Cushwa.

Study Club Meets

Mrs. R. M. Spencer was hostess to the Study Club on Friday, 30th, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Yancey, on North Main street.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. O. B. Mc-Broom. The subject for the afternoon was, "Women in Politics." The first paper was given by Mrs. G. E. Moore. Mrs. R. L. Whitfield gave a most interesting paper on "Woman's Suffrage."

The rooms were decorated with lovely fall flowers. The guest were served a salad course with coffee and hot rolls, followed by a sweet course.

Mr. Wagstaff, Jr. Host To Party

Mr. T. C. Wagstaff, Jr. was the host to a Hallowe'en party Friday evening at his beautiful home in the Concord section.

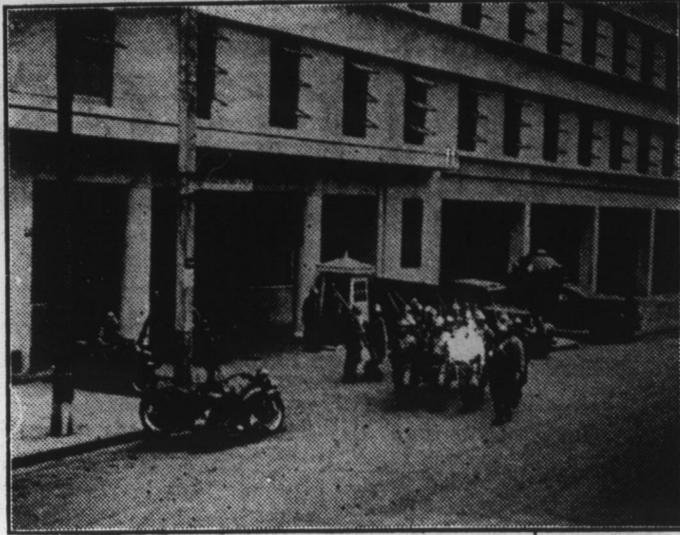

Twenty-two guests were invited. As the guests arrived they were served a fruit cocktail. Afterwards several games were enjoyed along with the toasting of marshmallows and popping of popcorn. The host's mother served the guests sherbert and cake. The entire party then left on a treasure hunt in the woods back of the host's home. Each guest was given a map to hunt by. After the treasure was found each guest received a bag of candy wrapped in silver.

CARD OF THANKS

To all of the people who were so kind as to vote for me on Tuesday of this week I wish to extend my sincere thanks. I assure you all that I appreciate your support.

ED WARREN.

JAPAN'S FORTRESS-LIKE BASE IN CHINA
Continued strife between Japan and China lends emphasis to this huge building, of fortress strength, which Japan has erected at a cost of $1,000,000 in Shanghai, China, to house a "landing" force of 3,000 troops.

Dinner Hostess

Little Miss Arline Hall was hostess to a Hallowe'en dinner, Friday evening to a few friends at her home on Court street.

The little guests were invited into the dining room, where everything was decorated in Hallowe'en style. The guests were served a Hallowe'en menu. After the dinner, several Hallowe'en games were played.

The guests were Misses Panthea Bullock, Marian Winstead, Marian Paylor, Merledene Rimer, and Emma Susan Brooks.

Epworth League Party

The members of the Epworth League of the Methodist church gave a Hallowe'en party Saturday night in the basement of the Methodist church. Miss Ruth Newton assisted in the playing of several interesting games. The members were served hot chocolate with marshmallows, cakes, and apples. Each guest was given a hat as a favor.

A quantity of 24 tons of cured hay an acre was secured by S. J. Kinsland of Macon County from Korean lespedeza following wheat where triple superphosphate had been applied.

Lovely Event of Last Week

A lovely event of last week was a four-course dinner given by Mrs. J. C. Wagstaff at her home in the Concord section, honoring the brides of the community.

The living room and dining room were decorated for the occasion with baskets of autumn flowers, suggestive of the Hallowe'en season.

The dining table was centered with a large bowl of Dixie Mari-golds and ferns. At the ends of the table were tall silver candleholders with orange candles.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Wagstaff, Mr. and Mrs. William Winstead, Mr. and Mrs. John Hester, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Winstead, Mr. and Mrs. James Winstead, John Fletcher Wagstaff and Kenneth Wagstaff.

As a gift from the hostess each bride was presented with a cut glass bon-bon dish.

ROXBORO DEFEATED OXFORD FRIDAY BY SCORE OF 6 TO 0

Boys Are Now Playing Good Football and Looking Forward to Game With Bethel Hill.

Roxboro high school is again in the best of football winners virtue of having defeated Oxford high school last Friday. Final score of the contest was 6-0 and the Roxboro boys came home smiling once again.

Sanders, Roxboro star, caught a long pass and stepped over the goal line for the only score of the game. This score came in the third period. Coach Dunlop has built a fine high school team this year. At first it did not appear as though Roxboro could have very much, but after many afternoons of hard work a nice team has developed. The Roxboro boys now have one real ambition and that is to beat Bethel Hill. This game almost rivals the Carolina-Duke contest from a standpoint of local interest.

Lineup for last Friday.

| Pos. | Roxboro | Oxford |
|-------------|---------|------------|
| LE Sanford | | Knott |

QUEEN'S HOPE REVIVES

London, England — Ex - Queen Victoria of Spain returned from the United States where she visited her eldest son, the Count of Cavadonga, ill in a New York hospital. A spokesman for the former Queen stated "Her Majesty is a very happy woman," and predicted the restoration of the monarchy in Spain, with her third son, Don Juan III, on the throne. Both of her elder sons renounced their succession to marry commoners, and the imminent capture of Madrid by the "White" forces have raised high the Bourbon hopes.
