

MRS. LONGSTREET, GENERAL'S WIFE HELPS IN WAR

Widow Of Famed Confederate Leader Learns Riveting.

Marietta, Ga., Oct. 13.—The grey-haired widow of a famed Confederate general is the South's latest addition to the civilian war labor force.

Refusing to tell her age—except to chuckle "I haven't reached the century mark yet"—Mrs. Helen Dorthea Longstreet, whose husband, Gen. James Longstreet, was one of Robert E. Lee's chief followers, dons slacks and cap each morning, leaves her home in a Marietta trailer camp and reports for instruction at a riveting school.

"I am majoring in assembly, fabrication and riveting," she explained. "The course usually requires three months but I believe I will be ready for graduation in two weeks. I'm the head of my class. . . . In fact, I'm the only one in it."

Since the death of General Longstreet in 1904, Mrs. Longstreet has been active in many affairs, serving as a newspaper reporter, free-lance writer on political subjects, postmistress at Gainesville and, during World War I, an employe of the Veterans Bureau in Washington.

She was a school girl—classmate of General Longstreet's daughter at Brenau College—when she met the famous Confederate leader. They were married at the executive mansion in Atlanta in 1897.

"I couldn't stay out of this war," she said. "The thought of American boys dying on the battlefields made me realize that I had to get in and do my part toward achieving victory."

Mines Returned To Owners When Period Expires

Washington, Oct. 13.—The Government took itself out of the coal mining business this week as Interior Secretary Ickes turned back to their owners the 1,700 mines still in Government possession and announced liquidation of the coal mines administration, which he headed.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, declined to comment, and apparently the next move in the muddled coal labor situation is up to the National War Labor Board, which must decide whether to approve two contracts agreed upon by the UMW and private operators. The agreements do not cover the general soft coal industry, but union leaders and some operators have expected them to furnish a pattern for broader agreements.

Now Overseas

Pfc. Stephen Gentry, Jr., and Pfc. William J. Owens, Jr., both of the United States Army, have arrived safely at an overseas station, according to information received here by their families.

G. H. ELMORE TALKS TO PERSON MINISTERS GROUP

Elmore in making his address used as his subject: "What is Wrong with the Church Today?" The speaker enumerated several of the churches' short comings. In closing, Mr. Ellmore said, "The Church is meeting warfare on the home front the same as our fighting men are meeting it on the battle fronts. The hour calls for more courage, more evangelistic activity, and more preaching of the old time religion, of you please, Christ and Him Crucified; for the salvation of the Church and the entire world rest solely on this powerful Gospel which calls all men and women everywhere to repentance."

Speaker for November will be the Rev. L. V. Coggins. Ministers present for the meeting were: the Revs. J. N. Bowman, J. H. Shore, E. C. Maness, L. Bowie, R. W. Hovis, L. V. Coggins, G. H. Ellmore, W. C. Martin and R. J. Womble.

DR. SHOAF SUGGESTS MALARIA CONTROL BY DRAINING

(continued from front page) be established in the Center through cooperation of the Person County Public Library is will be reported on at a later date. Chub lake is in what is defined as a war or defense area, which may explain the promptness and thoroughness of the investigation, undertaken the first of last month.

Area in which the Anopheles larvae are predominant is confined for the most part to a section covering about a mile, from the Chub Lake dam to the marsh section. Some physicians here in September said that the malaria epidemic reported has been no more wide-spread this year than it has been for a number of years. Dr. Richardson, now in New York, could not be reached for comment.

(continued from front page) a reading shelf and it is expected that magazines will also be contributed by interested friends.

Dr. Long today announced that a meeting of board members, committeemen and other interested citizens will be held at the Center Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. Many supplies for the Center are still needed and citizens having chairs, tables, card tables, games, etc., are asked to call Mrs. Pridgen at once. Members of the Business and Professional Woman's club at their own meeting this week at Hotel Roxboro devoted practically the whole time to discussion of Center plans.
