BELEGATION WAIT OF THE PRES

A MALE ALTONOMY TO THE STATE BY CONSIDERATION OF THE STATE OF THE STAT

and in the exercise of your functions to a great degree a joint legislator I am therefore charged with the responsibility of pressing upon your minds, for serious consideration, the desirability of such extended and leisurely trip through that wonderful country, to which our own city of Kansas—practically two cities in one—is the main gateway. May we go not be frank with you if I professed that the invitation which you have just now so pleasantly and courte-ously extended was the first intimulation I have had of your desire that I should see you at your beautiful home. I have thought that any trip I might make, bringing me in your neighborhood would be incomplete and wanting in advantage and profit if it did not include a short stay in if it did not include a short stay in your active, sturring city. I am specially pleased that the invitation which you so kindly extend to me has no partison or political feature, but that the parties to it are the people of Kansas City, desirous of exhibiting to their servant, the Chief Magistrate of all the people, what they have done and so contributed to ward the national greatness and pros perity of which every American citizen is, or should be proud, and the pleasure which the non-political fea ture of your invitation gives me is increased by the fact that Kansas City is represented here by the parties who are actually engaged in the diverse enterprises which have made diverse enterprises which have made your city great and prosperous, and that every interest which she fosters has a place in the delegation I see before me. I want to see your city before me. I want to see your city and I can discern no opportunity to do so unless I extend the trip already determined upon and include Kansas freight. Cramer, as soon as he noticed the rails spreading, applied the determined upon and include Kansas City among the places I shall visit. The consideration I have already given the subject, and the heartiness and sincerity of your invitation, induce me to accept it at once. My time upon this contemplated trip will, of course, be him ted and many places which I should be glad to see must be passed by, but I am so free from doubt as to what I shall do in response to your invitation that I
