Redwine Is Chairman Of Freshmen Legislators

Rep. David Redwine of Ocean Isle Beach has been elected chairman of the freshmen legislators in the State House. Primarily through a series of breakfast meetings, he is helping familiarize the first-term legislators with their new roles, acquainting them with procedures and information sources.

Redwine is perhaps the "oldest" of the freshmen. Elected to his first full two-year term last fall, he previously served out the remainder of former Rep. Tom Rabon's term. He represents the 14th District, which includes Brunswick and portions of New Hanover and Pender counties.

Wins Scholarship

A Columbus County high school senior is the recipient of a $1,000 1985 Rural Electric Youth Tour Scholarship from the Women's Committee of the statewide rural electric cooperative organization.

CEDAR GROVE AREA NEWS

Church Anniversary Observed

BY BARBARA HEWETT

Cedar Grove Missionary Baptist Church culminated its anniversary activities with the Rev. Freeman Gause bringing the Sunday morning message.

The evening message came from Rev. John Keel and his Young Adult Choir of Nakina. Sister Annie R. Bryant recited a poem she wrote regarding the church's progress.

Institute In Progress

Come to the Missionary Baptist Institute at Little Macedonia Baptist in Supply, where Rev. Lawrence Keel is pastor. There will be classes for all ages taught by the following instructors: Seniors, Sister Annie R. Bryant; Young Adults, Sister Elizabeth Young; Youth, Sister Barbara T. Hewett.

Each night's service begins at 6:45 and continues to 9 p.m. through March 22.

New Council Chairman

The Black Cultural Awareness Council has a new chairman, Mrs. Joyce Bernard Bullard of Bolivia. She follows the dynamic leadership of Sister Laura Baker.

Her chairmanship brings many youthful ideas and initial steps for a youth workshop which promises to strengthen our youth in the areas of drama and arts.

Revival Services Slated

Zion Plain Missionary Baptist Church will be in revival beginning Sunday, March 31. Speaker for the week will be Rev. James Vereene.

House-Warming Enjoyed

A house-warming was given in Hampton, Virginia by Mr. and Mrs. Perry Hewett, son of the late John Anderson Hewett of this community.

The happy motorists from our area who attended included Mr. and Mrs. James Hobert Bryant, Wesley Hewett, Sem Hewett and wife Catherine, Jasper E. Hewett and Charles Morgan.

They spoke of a joyous reunion with other relatives who live there as well as those who motored from New York to join in the celebration.

Birthday Greetings

Happy birthday to everyone, and especially to Jackie Fullwood, Eric and Edward Pigot, Marsha Bryant, Mary Lee Bryant, Evelyn Hewett, Alma Hewett, Remontia Hewett, Atlee Fullwood, Laura Flowers, Jenelle Hewett, Rose Gause and Freddie B. Hewett.

Hats Off To Farmers

Today, March 21, is National Agriculture Day, when our nation's farmers and their essential jobs are recognized. Hats off to our farmers; we couldn't live without you and the produce our heavenly Father helps you grow.

How Do You Say Goodbye?

How do you say goodbye to a dedicated educator like Mrs. Francis Stanley? Brunswick County tried to find a way at Mt. Carmel A.M.E. Church in Southport March 8.

Board of education members, central staff, past and present principals, mayors, ministers, active and retired teachers, friends and family, locally and across the state, paid tribute to her for a "life of dedication, service and seeing a job well done." Mrs. Holden's 5th grade class of Southport Elementary echoed these sentiments with a poem.

This Week's Bible Verse

"We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren." 1 John 3:14.

Seminar Will Examine Early Wolfe

An upcoming humanities seminar at the Brunswick County Government Center will examine Look Homeward, Angel, the first novel published by the late Thomas Wolfe.

The seminar class will meet Tuesdays from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. beginning April 2 at the Brunswick County Extension Service Office. The to encourage discussion of the topic among participants themselves.

These two sessions will begin with videotape presentations featuring Richard Walser, a professor emeritus and Wolfe specialist. Discussion will be guided by questions provided earlier by Professor Clark.

To register for the seminar contact Mary L. Russ, home economics extension agent, at 253-4425. The deadline is April 1.

There is no charge to the public, but continuing education credit for attendance is available with payment of a $5 registration and transcript fee at the first session. Teachers interested in earning renewal credit for the seminar should contact their local school coordinator to determine if the seminar has been approved for recertification.

In Look Homeward, Angel, Wolfe's semi-autobiographical hero, Eugene Gant, escapes his family and hometown.

JAMES CLARK Leads Wolfe Seminar

Seminar is sponsored by the service in conjunction with N.C. State University's School of Humanities and Social Sciences.

Professor James Clark of the NCSU English Department will conduct the first and fourth sessions of the seminar, withdrawing from it during the middle two weeks in order
