Harold Milliken

Milliken Brothers Play Ball

High school junior Harold Milliken is continuing a family tradition of excellence in baseball, reports his uncle, A. Earl Milliken of Shallotte.

Milliken is the son of Mrs. Virginia Roach Milliken of Key West, Fla., and the late Harold Russ Milliken, both natives of Shallotte.

The junior righthander recently allowed the Westminster Christian Warriors only two hits while striking out nine in a five-inning, 11-0 game, his first varsity win pitching for Key West High School.

Two of Milliken's brothers, Randy Alwin and Earl Russ Milliken, are identical twins and play baseball for St. John's University in Miami. Randy is in the No. 2 position to be picked by a minor league team, while Earl is student body president at the same school, said their uncle.

Another brother, Christian, has been a member of the State of Florida championship team two consecutive years.

Their grandparents are Mrs. Ava R. Milliken and Mrs. Bertha Roach Briles, both of Shallotte.

Their uncle recently visited Key West and Miami to see the brothers play ball.
