

Union, Bolivia Schools Hold May Events

The first weekend in May often marks the arrival of May flowers and spring. At Union Primary and Bolivia Elementary schools Saturday, the first weekend in May was a time for festivities under bright, clear skies.

Both schools held their annual spring celebrations Saturday at the schools—Union Primary with its first annual "Spring Fling" and Bolivia Elementary with its annual "May Day" celebration.

Proceeds from each fair, sponsored by the schools and their Parent-Teachers Organizations, will benefit the school. Both fairs offered outdoor and indoor fun for all ages.

At Union, games and dancing were held in the central courtyard while a moon walk and pony ride was held on Bolivia's playground. There were also clowns at each school selling balloons who also helped paint children's faces.

A musical program called, "Cool It Down In May" entertained the annual May Queen while third graders wrapped the traditional May pole in red and white streamers. Other grades also performed skits and sang songs.

It was the first time Union Primary has held a spring festival that Assistant Principal Diana Mintz said the school hopes will become an annual event.

CLOWN Sandra Layman distributes balloons to Charlotte Roberts, center, and Mandy Redwine at Union Primary Saturday.

RICKY TODD heaves a shot toward the goal in the basketball throw at Union Primary.

MELANIE FIELDS takes a ride on a pony led by Nina Quattlebaum of Unicorn Stables at Bolivia's May Day celebration.

ALLISON LOWREY gets a painted-on smile Saturday at Bolivia Elementary's May Day festival. Students received clown faces as part of the fun.

Students To Perform 'Snow White' Tuesday

"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" will come to life next week at Shallotte Middle School during the school's annual play production. Three performances will be given, including a 7:30 p.m. showing Tuesday, May 14, for the public in the school cafeteria. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Additional performances will be given Tuesday morning for Shallotte Middle students and on Wednesday morning for students from other schools, said play coordinator Kay Coleman.

"The cast is smaller than we usually work with," Ms. Coleman said. Both she and co-coordinator Wallace Dunn have been working with students for a month on the production with the music instructor and art instructor.

The cast includes Kelly Stanaland as Snow White; Dee Dee Gause as the mirror; Wayne Stanaland as the prince and Tanya Hewett as the queen.

Dwarfs include Chris Bland as Doc; Richard Lancaster as Grumpy; Charles Moore as Sneezzy; Chris Phelps as Dopey; Shane Holden as Happy; Chris Tyndall as Bashful and LeQuinn Jenerette as Sleepy.

Other cast members are Ashley Marshall as a princess, Kristen Boyles as an old peasant woman and Christy Bellamy as a witch.

Those attending the play may recognize several scenes that have been pulled out of storage from previous plays that will be used in "Snow White," helping to save time in stage preparations.

The dwarfs were recruited from the school chorus group, Ms. Coleman said.

"They're really beginning to come across with their parts now," she added. "They can really sing."
