Hewett Gets Poulos Award

Larry D. Hewett, son of Larry D. and Sharon Hewett of Shallotte, has been named the 1985 recipient of the James Gary Poulos II Memorial Award.

The award is presented annually at the Shallotte Middle School graduation ceremony to a seventh- or eighth-grade student who exhibits Christian views and attitudes, participates in extracurricular activities in school and/or community, is friendly with and holds the respect of classmates and teachers and maintains at least a "C" average.

The award is a memorial established by Mr. and Mrs. James Gary Poulos of Holden Beach in memory of their son, who was killed in an accident on the beach several years ago.

Hewett was chosen by a selection committee from a list of 11 nominees. Larry is a member of the National Junior Honor Society, played on the school basketball team, is an honor-roll student and named to the principal's list this year, is a member of the drama club and is also a Tar Heel Junior Historian.

He was also a member of the school's math counts team and plays baseball. He is active in the Oak Grove Baptist Church.

Next year, a James Gary Poulos II scholarship will be presented to a West Brunswick High School senior as well as an award given at the middle school since James would have graduated in 1986.

The family is still accepting contributions for the scholarship at the North Carolina National Bank branch in Shallotte, under the name James Gary Poulos II Memorial Award.

"His spirit and enthusiasm are obvious both in and out of the classroom," one teacher who nominated Larry for the award wrote. "He's a model student. He's respected by his peers and teachers."

Other students nominated were Becky Denise Stanley, Eric Edward Branson, Kristen Caroline Boyles, Jonathan Craig Fogle, Deanadrea Patrice Gause, James Michael Marshall, Kathleen Elaine McMullen, Glenda Kelly Stanaland and Jeremy Chadrick Danford.

"It was hard for the committee to make a choice," Ms. Trish Poulos said. "They could have given an award to everyone of these kids. It's always a hard decision."

The award is presented each year at the school's annual graduation ceremony. No one is aware who the winner is until the name is announced.

Mission Effort Gets Boost

A Shallotte businessman has given a boost to a Southern Baptist partnership effort to build churches in West Virginia.

W.J. McLamb, owner of MAC Construction Co., has donated a set of pews for a church to be built during July 8 through 20 in Sutton, W.Va., by Southeastern North Carolina Baptist volunteers.

During the five-year partnership between the Southern Baptist Conventions of the two states, a church has been built each summer in West Virginia. During the course of the program volunteers from all across North Carolina are expected to build at least 100 churches in West Virginia, a state where 60 percent of the people claim no church membership.

Layman Cameron Norris of Riegelwood, general project coordinator, said he expects to have about 200 men and women on site each of the two weeks in July for the church-raising.

Volunteers will build a two-story educational/fellowship/worship facility for the First Southern Baptist Church of Sutton, founded as a mission in 1972 and organized as a church in 1978.

"Without the generous offer from Mr. McLamb, it might have been years before this church would have pews," he said.

The project needs to raise $37,000 to help buy materials—with $24,000 the goal of the New South River Baptist Association (Fayetteville area) and $12,000 from the Columbus County Baptist Association and the surrounding area. "Scholarships" are also needed for youth and others who may not otherwise be able to go.

Norris said there will be a place for all interested volunteers, regardless of their skills. In addition to construction, volunteers will be involved in witness and ministry, including a five-day revival; support services such as child care and food preparation; and youth ministries such as Backyard Bible Clubs, choirs and clown and puppet ministries.

A meeting of persons interested in the project will be held at Lake Waccamaw First Baptist Church on Thursday, June 20, at 7:30 p.m. Anyone interested in the project is also asked to contact Norris at (919) 655-3346.

Teams are also available to speak at area churches about the mission project.
