Unemployment Rate Rises

Brunswick County's unemployment rate in June increased for the first time in many months, from 6.9 to 7.4 percent, the N.C. Employment Security Commission reported.

The state's seasonally unadjusted unemployment rate also increased slightly in June, from 5.4 to 5.5 percent, with 170,200 persons unemployed.

ESC spokesman Bob Campbell attributed the slight increase in the state's unemployment to the influx of students into the job market upon graduation and to the continuing decline in the textile industry.

"It is expected that graduates seeking jobs at this time of year will be reflected in the unemployment picture," Campbell said. "The declining textile industry, however, continues to be the strongest influence on N.C.'s economy."

In Brunswick County, 1,470 persons remained unemployed in June, compared to the 1,360 who were unemployed in May.

Unemployment rates in several surrounding counties also increased slightly in June, except for Columbus, which experienced a decrease from 9.3 to 9.1 percent. New Hanover County's rate increased from 5.5 to 5.8 percent while Pender County's rate jumped from 7.6 to 8.1 percent.

Bladen County also experienced a decrease, from 10.1 to 9.7 percent.
