

Teenager Pleads Guilty To Misdemeanor Larceny

A Little River, S.C., teenager charged with common law robbery involving a woman in Calabash was given a suspended sentence and fined $150 last week after pleading guilty to misdemeanor larceny from a person.

Anthony Leon Daniels, 16, was charged with common law robbery and assault on a female by the Brunswick County Sheriff's Department on July 15. Daniels pleaded guilty to assault and misdemeanor charges in Brunswick County District Court last Monday and was sentenced to 12 months in prison, suspended for two years and placed under two years supervised probation.

Daniels and another suspect, Nathaniel Junior Williams Jr., 19, of Route 1, Little River, were each charged with common law robbery after allegedly taking a woman's purse from her body outside the Dockside Restaurant in Calabash.

The two men were arrested at a Hickman's Crossroads roadblock just after the incident. Chief of Detectives Phil Perry said the 26-year-old woman was outside the restaurant at about 11 p.m., waiting for a friend to get off from work, when she was approached by one of the suspects. Williams has not entered a plea in the case.

Judge D. Jack Hooks Jr. also ordered that Daniels pay $44 in restitution to the victim within 30 days and to pay a $150 fine. He was also ordered to pay $150 in attorney fees and was given credit for ten days already served in the Brunswick County Jail.
