

Driver Charged With Unsafe Movement

A Shallotte woman was charged with making an unsafe movement Monday after the car she was operating went over an embankment on Smith Avenue and overturned in a cow pasture.

Charged was Lucille Johnson Grissette, 67.

Witnesses told Officer Nellie Evans that Ms. Grissette was traveling north on U.S. 17 at about 12:10 p.m. when she turned from the outside lane onto Smith Avenue. The car allegedly just missed a station wagon in the center turn lane preparing to turn left onto Smith Avenue.

The Grissette vehicle traveled approximately 150 feet along Smith Avenue before going over an embankment and into a cow pasture owned by Robert Hawes. The car came to rest on its top.

Damages were estimated at $2,500 to the Grissette car and $25 to Hawes' fence.

The Shallotte Volunteer Rescue Squad transported Ms. Grissette to Brunswick Hospital in Supply.

A driver was also charged in an accident that occurred about 6:10 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 6, on U.S. 17 at Shallotte Avenue.

Brenda Lee Martin, 17, of Shallotte, operating a 1979 Buick, had stopped in the northbound lane of U.S. 17. Brosiris S. Futrell, of Wallace, was also northbound, operating a 1982 Mack truck.

He told Officer Eddie Reynolds he couldn't go around the Martin car after seeing it stopped ahead of him. His truck struck the rear corner on the driver's side.

Reynolds charged Futrell with making an unsafe movement.

Martin and a passenger in her vehicle, Cheryl Lynn Hill, 19, of Shallotte, complained of injuries and were transported to Brunswick Hospital.

Damages to the Martin car were estimated at $750 and to the truck, $300.

No charges were filed in a three-car accident that occurred Friday, Aug. 9, at 1 p.m. at the intersection of U.S. 17 and Holden Beach Road.

According to the report filed by Officer Eddie Reynolds, Liston Randy Richardson, 23, of Route 1, Bolivia, had stopped his 1979 Chevrolet truck for slow traffic. A 1979 Oldsmobile operated by Wanda Fearnside Register, 28, of Southport, came to a stop behind him. The driver of third vehicle, Cindy Hanes Pierce, 22, of Shallotte, told Reynolds she braked but couldn't stop in time to avoid collision. Her 1981 Oldsmobile struck the Register vehicle in the rear, forcing it into the rear of Richardson's truck.

Damages were estimated at $300 to the truck, $2,500 to the Register auto and $1,800 to the Pierce auto.

A motorist who drove away from the Zip Mart in Shallotte Wednesday, Aug. 7, without paying for $22.06 of gas was apprehended later that afternoon three miles north of Bolivia by Brunswick County Sheriff's Deputy Keith Kennedy, Shallotte Police Chief Don Stovall said.

Clerk Elsie Knolls told Stovall that at about 2:23 p.m. a man in a dark green large car with a black vinyl top drove off without paying.

Charged was George P. Grembowicz of Pennsylvania. The case heard before a magistrate and restitution made that day, Stovall said.

Officer Eddie Reynolds took Ms. Knolls to the sheriff's department in Bolivia, where she made a positive identification of the suspect.

NO ONE WAS INJURED last Thursday when this Chevette overturned on N.C. 179 east of Ocean Isle Beach. The driver was charged with unsafe tires.

Grissettown-Longwood VFD Off To An Organized Start

BY SUSAN USHER

Organizers of a volunteer fire department in the Grissettown-Longwood area came up with a name, a board of directors, a treasury and a great deal of enthusiasm Thursday night, reports spokesman Malcolm Grissett.

"It's just an exciting venture. We're on the right track—we've just got a long way to go."

At the group's second organizational meeting, held at the Alcoholics Anonymous Building in Grissettown, attendance was better than 40, with a good turnout from Longwood, he said.

The county's newest fire department will be known as the Grissettown-Longwood Volunteer Fire Department. Its initial board of directors is composed of Bill Tripp, Hollis Smith, Kelly Holden and Malcolm Grissett, from various sections of the Grissettown area, and J.L. Stanley of Longwood. Marie Somersett of Grissettown is secretary-treasurer of the organization.

Committees to acquire land, funds and firefighters also were named Thursday. Members are as follows, said Mrs. Somersett: Land—Lloyd Hewett, Sam B. Somersett, W.D. Herbert, Edward Thomas and Weldon Hughes; Membership—Gary Grissett, Bob Constantine, Clyde Nichols and Ronald Todd; and Fundraising—Shawn Ward, Virginia Stanley, Billy Hickman, Sylvia Tripp, Darryl Somersett, Foster Frink, Edward Stevenson, Larry Abel, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barbee, Dale Hewett and Simon Stanley.

A collection netted donations of $931 to the fledgling department, Malcolm Grissett said.

"It's really remarkable to see that kind of enthusiasm. We were happy to see Longwood come in. I think it will work out real well."

He said the new group was getting help and advice from other fire departments, including Sunset Beach and Waccamaw; District 1 Commissioner Chris Chappell; Brunswick County Emergency Management Coordinator Cecil Logan and others.

At their next meeting, tonight (Thursday, Aug. 15) at 8 p.m., the group will begin discussing incorporation and methods of financing and will hear from the committees.

As proposed, the district would serve an area with about 491 structures, including five churches, one school and more than 30 businesses.

West Future Farmers Active During Summer

Future farmers at West Brunswick High School put in a busy summer, attending a state conference, officer training workshops and planning meetings, as well as working on occupational experience projects, reports Jonathan Clemmons.

Each student is required to have a supervised occupational experience during the summer, which can include production projects (farming), agribusiness projects (sales and service) and home improvement projects.

FFA Chapter Advisor and vocational agriculture teacher C. Michael Russ visited each student enrolled in agriculture to check the progress of their projects.

"I feel like the summer program was very productive and that the students learned a lot to prepare them not only for the coming year, but also they developed skills that will help them prepare for entering the world of work," said Russ.

Six delegates attended the state FFA convention in Raleigh, hearing various guest speakers on agriculture and its future. They attended award sessions, competed in a state contest, attended the state officers' installation ceremony and served on several state committees.

Chapter officers and a number of members gathered later in the summer at Russ' home in Shallotte to plan for the coming school year and for a swim party and dinner.

Also, in July several FFA students and Russ attended the N.C. FFA leadership workshop held at R.J. Peeler FFA Camp at White Lake. Students learned how to become more efficient officers in sessions taught by state FFA officers and a national FFA officer.

Final plans will be made and committees appointed when the full chapter membership is determined after the start of the 1985-86 school year, said Clemmons.
