

MRS. JEFFREY THOMAS MYLES
... formerly Esther B. Buffkin

Buffkin, Myles Vows Exchanged

Esther B. Buffkin of Ash and Jeffrey Thomas Myles of Sanford were married Saturday, Oct. 12, at 6 p.m. at Trinity United Methodist Church in Southport.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anson Babson of Ash. She is head of the cosmetology department at Brunswick Technical College.

The groom is the son of Margaret E. Myles of Chatham County and the late John F. Myles III. He is attorney and vice-president of L.P. Cox Company in Sanford.

Given in marriage by Willard Buffkin Jr., the bride wore a formal gown of silk organza re-embroidered with seed pearls. The fitted bodice of Alencon lace was styled with a high neckline and Victorian sleeves. Her veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a pearl and lace tiara. She carried a bouquet of long-stemmed red roses.

Rev. P.D. Midgett performed the double ring ceremony. Wedding music was provided by organist Amaretta Prevatte and soloist Pat Payne.

Carolyn Babson of Ash was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Beverly Buffkin of Carolina Beach and Connie Adams of Southport. They wore formal gowns of red candlelight moire taffeta and carried long-stemmed red roses.

John R. Myles III was best man. Ushers were David D. Duvall of Sanford and Paul Meadows of Wilmington.

Gerry Shaver of Southport attended the register, and Mary Norwood of Southport directed.

After a brief wedding trip, the couple is residing in Ash.

Over '50s Meet

The Over '50s Club meets Monday, Nov. 4, at 2 p.m. at Jennies Branch Baptist Church on N.C. 179.

All members are urged to attend, said spokesman Mildred Williams.

The seniors club includes men and women more than 50 years old.

Pilot Club Plans Projects

Nancy Simpson of the Brunswick County Sheriff's Department addressed the South Brunswick Islands Pilot Club at their monthly meeting, Oct. 22.

Simpson, who works with cases of wife abuse and child molestation, told members a shelter is needed in southern Brunswick County.

The Pilot Club, and other county organizations, will be working to establish a shelter.

A new club community service project is "Adopt-A-Family." The club will be providing food and clothing for a senior citizen who lives alone.

On Halloween night the club will assist at a party at Brunswick Village, a rest home in Shallotte. Club members also plan to visit the seniors on a monthly basis.

A visiting Pilot Club member, Sara Kaziah, presented the club with a "love gift" from the Monroe club.

"Love gifts" are donations to newly chartered clubs from established clubs to launch community service projects.

The club's internal affairs division has announced selling "love lights" will be its main fund-raising activity. The lights will cost $1 each, and they can be in memory or in honor of someone. The lights will be arranged on a tree in front of United Carolina Bank. They will be illuminated on Sunday, Dec. 8, and will burn throughout the 1985 holiday season.
