'Nutcracker' Ballet Slated In Assembly's Auditorium

A Christmas classic, "The Nutcracker Ballet," is coming to Brunswick County.

The familiar children's story, known best perhaps for its "Waltz of the Flowers," will be presented by The Dance Theatre of Wilmington at Hatch Auditorium on Saturday, Dec. 14, at 7:30 p.m. The auditorium is located on the grounds of the N.C. Baptist Assembly at Fort Caswell, on Oak Island.

In the magical ballet, a little girl named Clara is given a nutcracker in the shape of a toy soldier. When the rest of the family leaves the house at Christmastide, the nutcracker and her toys come to life. In the course of her magical adventures, Clara confronts the seven-headed Mouse King and enters the Kingdom of Sweets, where the Sugarplum Fairy meets her Cavalier.

The local production will feature several special effects, including falling snow and a tree that comes to life, said Pat Pittenger, local spokesman.

This appearance by the regional ballet company is subsidized by several sources, including the Brunswick County Arts Council, First Citizens Bank and Trust, United Carolina Bank and Carolina Power & Light, she said. "The Nutcracker" will also be presented Dec.

13 and Dec. 15 at Kenan Auditorium in Wilmington.

Admission will be $2 in advance and $2.50 at the door.

"It's a Christmas gift to the community," said Ms. Pittenger.

This is the company's first presentation in Hatch Auditorium since 1979.

The production corps includes 10 young people from the Southport-Oak Island area. Joanne Burnett is the director and her daughter, Traci, dances the role of "Queen of the Snowflakes."

Ms. Pittenger's daughter, Erin Fitzgerald, a former professional dancer who now owns her own studio, is also part of the corps.

With several professional and semiprofessional dancers featured, Ms. Pittenger said the show is "quite a professional production."

Advance tickets are available in the Shallotte from the Brunswick School of Dance at Supply.
