

Tri-Beach Names Little Miss

The first Little Miss Tri-Beach Pageant netted $582 for the volunteer fire department and involved seven girls.

Ashley Nicole Sawyer, 4½-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Sawyer, won the first Little Miss title as well as Miss Congeniality, and collected $110 in sponsorships.

Runner-ups were Jennifer Mae-Michele Kennedy, daughter of Ms. Nancy Kennedy; and Christie Beth Pascucci, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Weeks. Jennifer Diane Rabon, daughter of Ronnie and Marcia Rabon, won the sponsor award with $192 in sponsorships.

Also participating were Rachel Norlene Swain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Swain, and Regina Britt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Britt.

Eighteen-month-old Ashley Nicole Fulford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fulford, was named Future Little Miss Tri-Beach. There were no other entries in that event.

Megan Elizabeth Farmer, the three-year-old with the title of 1987 Little Miss South Carolina Palmetto Princess, presented the trophies. Judges were Jess Parker of Supply, Joanie Smith of Fayetteville and Sara Farmer of Shallotte.

Shaina Inman was mistress of ceremonies and Erin Fulford organized the pageant.

Month Of May Very Dry

May 1987 was the sixth driest May on record, according to the National Weather Service Office in Wilmington.

Precipitation for the month totaled .95 inch as measured at the airport in Wilmington, or 3.27 inches below normal for the month. Measureable rainfall fell on only six days, with afternoon sea breezes pushing the thunderstorms inland away from the coast.

Temperatures were near-normal, however, averaging 70.6 degrees, one-tenth degree below the long-term average.
