

Cheers, Fulcher Wed Valentine's Day

Stephanie Cheers and Milton Fulcher, both of Supply, were married Sunday, Feb. 14, in a 5:30 p.m. candlelight ceremony at Prospect Baptist Church, Supply.

Rev. Henry Lackey of Wilmington, a family friend, officiated the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Cheers of Supply and the granddaughter of Mrs. Estaleen Milliken Hewett of Supply and the late J.D. Milliken, and Retha Cheers of Shallotte and Dixie H. Cheers of Supply.

The groom is the son of Ms. Miriam Woodyard of Shallotte.

Church decorations included an arched candelabra with heart-shaped pink floral arrangements accented with crocheted wedding bells made by the bride's maternal grandmother, Estaleen M. Hewett; two other candelabras entwined with ivy; palms, ivy, white chrysanthemums, window candles, a kneeling bench and Unity candle.

Music was provided by pianist Jean Jordan and soloist June Dyson, aunt of the bride, both of Wilmington. Songs included "We've Only Just Begun" and "Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white Alfred Angelo gown of fleur-de-lis chantilly-type lace and polyester net with lace-trimmed, beaded embroidered yoke, hemmed double ruffled bodice with pearl buttons and Victorian sleeves and a natural waistline. The skirt was trimmed with ruffles that flowed into a cathedral train. A fingertip veil and blusher were attached to a satin hat trimmed with pearl and sequin appliques.

She carried a cascading bouquet of white bridal roses and pink miniature carnations with babies' breath and greenery. Tucked into the bouquet was a white, handmade lace handkerchief, a gift from her mother.

Maid of Honor Dee Lee of Supply, aunt of the bride, wore a daphne rose matte taffeta gown with chiffon overlay, ruffled neckline and sleeves, with a ruffled train attached to the skirt at the rear waist and fastened with a chiffon rose. She carried two white silk longstemmed roses accented with ribbons.

Shelly Lee of Supply, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a dusty rose matte taffeta long gown with off-the-shoulder bodice and bows on the shoulders, with a ruffled skirt.

Ashley Lee of Supply, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a white gown of layered lace which formed a long skirt trimmed with pink bows. Ruffled lace edged the neckline and pink bows adorned the shoulders and waist.

Michael Bishop of Supply, a friend of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Jay Cheers of Supply, brother of the bride, and Chris Lee of Supply, cousin of the bride.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the church fellowship hall.

The couple was honored with a pre-wedding shower given on Feb. 12 in Supply by Dee Lee, aunt of the bride, and Miriam Woodyard, the groom's mother.

Both the bride and groom were graduated from West Brunswick High School and attend Brunswick Community College. Mrs. Fulcher is employed at Kerr Drugs in Shallotte and her husband at the NAPA dealership in Calabash.

Following a honeymoon trip to Myrtle Beach, S.C., the newlyweds are living in Supply.

Day in Park, Walk-a-thon To Benefit Leland Library

County residents will get another chance before the March 25 deadline to give their support for the Leland Library building fund drive.

On March 19, a "Day in the Park" will be held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Leland Ball Park to benefit the drive. The main event, according to drive chairman Edith Tillman, will be a walk-a-thon for all ages. Applications are available at all three Leland area schools and at the Leland Library.

Other events will include a cake walk, yard sale, and a fishing tank and story telling by Esther Smith for the youngsters. Hot dogs and baked goods will be sold, with free drinks for walkers.

The Brunswick County Library must submit its application this month to the State Library for matching funds for the project, according to Mrs. Tillman.

And while she's proud that more than 75 firms and families have responded to the community appeal, Mrs. Tillman added that she hopes many more will come through with the March 25 deadline so near.

Efforts to date have included media attention, community posters, collection jars, and "barber shave" style road signs along the roads near the Leland Library.

Contributions may be sent to the Leland Library Building Fund Drive, P.O. Box 239, Leland, NC 28451.

Picture Pretty

Among the many things a bride-to-be has to think about is her first formal portrait. Here are some of the things you'll need to know.

If you're planning to have a wedding announcement in the newspaper, the picture must be submitted well in advance. This means making an appointment for a formal portrait before your wedding. Check with your newspaper for the timing they require.

You may find that the photograph must be taken before the final fitting of your gown. In this case, go with a "head shot"—the gown can be pinned to fit, since only the neckline will show. Some brides prefer that this advance picture be a formal portrait they can cherish forever. If you're having a morning wedding or know that your house will be hectic on the day of your marriage, an advance studio portrait gives you plenty of time to prepare and relax. Others prefer to wait and pose on their wedding day.
