It's never too late to learn at BCC

Frances Gravatt is a Brunswick Community College 1991 graduate in business administration. She was an ambassador, National Vocational-Technical Honor Society officer, and dean's list student. Drawing on the skills she acquired at BCC, this grandmother began a career as an insurance agent in Shallotte. Frances is enjoying continuing her studies part-time in Brunswick Community College's General Education program.

Brunswick Community College offers 18 curriculum programs. Spring registration will be held March 9 and registration for Summer Quarter will be June 1. In addition, BCC'S Continuing Education courses start throughout the year.

Did you know that as North Carolina residents, senior citizens (age 65 and over) can take community college courses tuition-free?

For more information, call 754-6900, 343-0203, or 457-6329. BCC's main campus is located on Business 17 in Supply.
