

Vows Exchanged Feb. 26

Janice Michelle Hargis of Supply and Ronald Dwayne Hicks of Shallotte were married Feb. 26 at 2 p.m. in a double-ring ceremony at the Brunswick County Courthouse at Bolivia. The bride is the daughter of Janice Hargis of Supply and Jerry Hargis of Ash. The groom is the son of Ron Hicks of Shallotte and Anita Dorsett of North Wilkesboro.

Egg Hunt, Arts, Rafting On Department Agenda

A spring egg hunt, after-school arts program and whitewater rafting trip are ahead for the Brunswick County Parks and Recreation Department.

The egg hunt is scheduled for 2 p.m. Sunday, April 4, at the Brunswick County Government Complex in Bolivia.

Participants should meet at the public assembly building and bring their own baskets. The hunt is open to all county youths and visitors 9 and younger.

An after-school arts program is scheduled for Tuesday, April 6, at the Shallotte Library; Wednesday, April 7, at the Southport Library; and Thursday, April 8, at the Leland Library. All three will take place from 4 until 5 p.m.

The program is open to all 6-13-year-olds, and all materials will be provided. There is no fee and pre-registration is not required.

A whitewater rafting trip to the Chattooga River Section IV will take place May 27-30. This part of the river offers class 3-5 whitewater rapids.

Total trip cost will be based on the number of participants, but approximate cost will be $100 per person for transportation, one day of rafting, four meals and camping fees. Space is limited, and a $30 deposit is required by March 26.

For more information about any of these programs, call Emma T. McGraw at 253-4357 or 1-800-222-4790.

Married 52 Years

Married in 1941, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Collins of Salisbury will celebrate their 52nd wedding anniversary March 15. They have five children, including Darlene Futch of Holden Beach; 14 grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren.

Spring Retreat Set In The N.C. Mountains

The N.C. Cooperative Extension Service's Spring Conservation retreat offers a family get-away to the North Carolina mountains.

Along with open afternoons for hiking or other recreational pursuits, the retreat will offer diverse courses such as Appalachian ecology, fly casting and game cookery, special classes for youngsters ages 5 to 13, and a nursery service. Seminars, slide shows and mountain music programs will fill the evening hours.

More information on the program, which is offered at High Hampton Inn in conjunction with the Service and with N.C. State University, is available from Brunswick County Extension Director Milton Coleman, 253-4425.

WANT TO BE A STORYTELLER?

Sessions Show Everyone How

Ever wish when reading aloud to children that you could capture their interest and attention like a professional storyteller?

Does your child appear to be a budding storyteller?

In either case, there's a workshop for you coming up this month.

On Thursday, March 18, Paulette Golding will demonstrate her art and share tips and techniques at a storytelling workshop sponsored by the Brunswick County Literacy Council and aimed primarily at adults who work with children. The program will be held from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. at the council's office in Supply.

The free session is open to all interested persons, with no experience required, said Jennifer Fiellman, a VISTA with the literacy council. The information shared would be useful to school volunteers, parents and grandparents, or others who enjoy reading aloud or telling stories.

For more information and to pre-register, contact the council at 754-READ.

On Monday, March 29, a teachers' workday, Steve Myott returns to Brunswick County to lead a workshop on storytelling for youngsters in kindergarten through fourth grades.

The session will be held from 1 p.m. to 1:45 p.m. at the West Brunswick Branch Library in Shallotte and is sponsored by the Brunswick County Parks and Recreation Department.

Myott, a resident of Wilmington, has done numerous creative dramatics workshops for children in Brunswick County.

Participants are asked to pre-register no later than March 25 by calling Emma McGraw, Brunswick County Parks and Recreation Department, 253-4357.
