Commercial Fishing Topics To Be Tackled At Forum

"Keeping Afloat in a Sea of Regulations" is the theme for the N.C. Fisheries Forum coordinated by UNC Sea Grant.

The March 13 forum is being held in conjunction with the 13th annual N.C. Commercial Fishing Show at the Crystal Coast Civic Center in Morehead City March 13-14.

The forum will include an overview of new and proposed state and federal regulations affecting the commercial fishing industry, including federal turtle excluder device (TED) requirements, fish excluders for shrimp trawl, an update on "license to sell" seafood, and fisheries zoning in North Carolina.

Also included in the forum will be a presentation by the Coast Guard on boarding policies, fisheries enforcement, vessel safety regulations and a proposed commercial fishing operator's license.

For processors, the forum will include a segment coordinated by N.C. State University's Seafood Lab. Topics are "Food Safety and Federal Inspection of Seafood," "Nutritional Labeling," "What is HACCP?" and "Shellfish Handling, Packing and Processing Requirements."

The fishing show, a boat and gear show for commercial fishermen, will run feature exhibits and sales of boats, engines, electronics, fishing gear and accessory equipment. The show is sponsored by the N.C. Fisheries Association.

Fairmont Ends Scorpions' Season

The North Brunswick boys' basketball season came to a merciful end last Tuesday as host Fairmont defeated the Scorpions 83-52 in the first round of the Waccamaw Conference Basketball Tournament.

Corry Addison scored 22 points to lead the regular-season conference champ Golden Tornadoes. Angelo McKenzie scored nine points to lead North, which ended the season 0-15 against league opponents and 3-16 overall.

North Brunswick, which has lost 25 straight Waccamaw Conference games, will switch leagues next fall and "play down" to the 1-A level despite its 2-A enrollment.

Joining North Brunswick in the new league will be 1-A schools Tar Heel, Bladenboro, South Robeson and Red Springs. St. Pauls, East Bladen and Fairmont will be the 2-A schools in the combination conference.

Child, 2; Williams, 1. Fairmont scoring: Addison, 22; McNair, 12; Hinson, 12; Floyd, 10; Jones, 8; Jones, 8; Stephens, 5; Page, 4; Locklear, 4; Bobian, 4; Burnette, 2.

Waccamaw League To Sell Dinners

Waccamaw Athletic Association will sell barbecue and chicken bog dinners for $3.50 each this Saturday starting at 11 a.m. at Waccamaw Township Park.

Saturday also is the final day of registration for the Waccamaw Dixie Youth Baseball League, said spokesman Mitchell Williams. Children ages 4 1/2 to 12 are eligible to participate.

All children must be accompanied by a parent or guardian and must bring a birth certificate to registration. The fee is $15.
