

Fourth DWI Conviction Lands Whiteville Man In Prison For 181 Days

A Whiteville man, who had his driver's license revoked permanently for three drunk driving convictions, was sentenced to 181 days in prison last week after pleading guilty in Brunswick County District Court last to another charge of driving while impaired.

Jeffrey Neal Inman, 34, was stopped at 1:45 a.m. last Dec. 12 by Highway Patrol Officer B.D. Barnhardt, who observed him weaving in the road, crossing the centerline and travelling at only 35 miles per hour on N.C. 130 near Ash, according to court records.

Inman refused to take a breath test to determine his blood alcohol content. But Barnhardt noted that Inman mumbled when he talked. His speech was slurred. His eyes were red and glassy. He was unsteady on his feet. And he had a moderate odor of alcohol on his breath, the court papers show.

In sentencing Inman, the judge recommended that he take part in the Drug and Alcohol Rehabilitation Training (DART) program while in prison. A charge of driving while his license was revoked permanently and simple possession of Schedule VI Controlled Substance were both voluntarily dismissed.

District Court Judge Napoleon B. Barefoot Jr. presided over court Monday (April 26), while Judge Jerry A. Jolly heard cases Tuesday. Assistant District Attorney Ola Lewis prosecuted cases for the state.

Other defendants who appeared in court last week, with their charges, pleas and sentences include:
