Stanley Presents Paper At The F.H. Bradley Colloquium

Maurice Stanley, Ph.D., an instructor at Brunswick Community College, presented a paper at the F.H. Bradley Colloquium Oct. 2-5 at Merton College, Oxford, England.

The colloquium observed the 100th anniversary of the publication of Appearance and Reality by the late English philosopher and Oxford fellow, Francis Herbert Bradley. Bradley has been recognized for his original contribution to philosophical thought in the area of metaphysics.

The colloquium brought together philosophers from five countries working within the areas of metaphysics, epistemology and philosophical logic who have found element's of Bradley's philosophy relevant to contemporary issues.

Stanley's paper was entitled "Bradley on Thought and Reality."

The Brunswick Community College underwrote a portion of Stanley's travel expenses.

Stanley also teaches at the University of North Carolina at Wilmington and at Shaw University. In 1991 his first novel, The Legend of Nance Dude, was published by John F. Blair, Pub., of Winston-Salem. He is at work on a second novel which he hopes to finish this summer.

ASU Honor Students

Three Brunswick County students have qualified for Appalachian State University's dean list for the spring semester. They are:

- Mary Conner McCumby of Sunset Beach, a senior majoring in risk and insurance;
- Russell Tyler Nelms of Shallotte, a senior majoring in music performance; and
- Jennifer Leigh Rainey of Calabash, a senior majoring in industry technology.

Meredith Grads

Two Southport women were among 517 awarded bachelor's degrees at Meredith College during its 92nd commencement exercises May 9.

GED Testing Set

Students who want to complete the equivalent of a high school diploma can take GED (general educational development) tests during June at Brunswick Community College.

All except the writing section will be given at BCC's main campus north of Supply Tuesday, June 15, at 1 p.m. and June 29 at 5 p.m. The same tests will be offered at two other sites: Thursday, June 17, at 5 p.m. at BCC's Southport campus on North Lord Street; and Wednesday, June 23, at 11 a.m. at BCC's Leland Campus in the Leland Industrial Park.

Students who wish to take the writing skills test may do so Tuesday, June 8, at 5 p.m., at the main campus.

Any GED test may be taken at BCC's Southport Campus Thursday, June 3, at 5 p.m., or at the Leland Campus Wednesday, June 2, at 11 a.m.

GED classes at BCC may be entered at any time by students preparing to take the tests. Also, personalized help in preparing is available at the college learning lab in the ALS Building on the main campus. Lab hours are 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Friday. Drop-ins are welcome.

For more information contact BCC at 754-6900, 457-6329, or 343-0203.

They are Carol Ann Brooks, a Spanish major and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ben Brooks of Country Club Drive; and Susan Monique Finley, a religion and English major and daughter Dennis and Ruth Finley of South Shore Drive.

NCSSM Recruits Four

Four high school sophomores from Brunswick County have been invited to attend the N.C. School of Science and Mathematics (NCSSM) in Durham.

The students are Elizabeth D. Detrie of Shallotte, West Brunswick High; Danny Holyfield and William R. Lampe, South Brunswick High; and Elizabeth K. Batson, who attends New Hanover High School in Wilmington.

They are among 278 sophomores statewide selected from a field of 843 applicants to attend the state-run residential school. The school serves academically talented 11th and 12th grade students who show promise of exceptional development and/or a special interest in science or mathematics. The state provides NCSSM students with tuition, room and board, textbooks, lab equipment and routine health care.

Grades, a demonstrated interest in science and mathematics, standardized test scores, teacher recommendations and personal interviews are considered in admission decisions.

Attends Seminar

Kathleen A. Thompson of Long Beach, a 12th grade English and SAT preparation teacher at South Brunswick High School, recently attended a seminar at the N.C. Center for the Advancement of Teaching.

Thompson was one of 19 North Carolina teachers participating in "900 Cinderellas: Fairy Tales Around the World," May 16-21 conducted by the NCCAT senior fellow A.D. Rud.

NCCAT, a unit of the University of North Carolina, provides "intellectual renewal experiences for teachers in a year-round series of interdisciplinary seminars," according to a news release.

Finishes At Greensboro

Timothy Mezell Randall of Shallotte was among 170 graduates recognized during the May 9 commencement ceremony at Greensboro College.

He earned the bachelor of science degree in business administration and economics.

Farmer Inducted

Sarah Williams Farmer, formerly of Shallotte, was initiated May 14 into Phi Theta Kappa National Honor Society at Cape Fear Community College in Wilmington.

Students selected for membership must take a required number of credit hours and maintain a 3.5 grade point average.

Farmer is enrolled in the associate degree program in nursing. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randy Cox of Shallotte and Earl Williams of Wilmington and the daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Jerald D. Farmer of Shallotte.

Earns Certificate

Marine Cpl. Ward A. Polk, whose wife Antoinette is the daughter of Herman and Carol Ballard of Leland, recently received a certificate of appreciation.

Polk was cited for superior performance of duty while assigned with Marine Aviation Logistics Squadron 32, 2nd Marine Aircraft Wing, Marine Corps Air Station Cherry Point.

Polk is a graduate of Henry Ford High School of Detroit. He joined the Marines in September 1984.

Judah Recognized

Jennifer H.B. Judah, a senior at West Brunswick High School, has been named a United States National Award winner in leadership and leadership service.

Nominated by faculty member Priscilla Gupton, her biography and photograph will appear in the U.S. Achievement Academy's annual yearbook.

Judah is the daughter of Christy Judah of Supply and the granddaughter of Herman and Erika Faircloth, also of Supply.

The Shallotte High School Class of 1956 is planning a class reunion June 26 at Brierwood Golf Club.

Anyone graduating, or who would have graduated, that year is invited to attend.

Planners of the reunion are still unable to locate some classmates' addresses.

Those interested or able to provide addresses should contact Patricia Clemmons at 842-6381 or Sheldon Hickman at 287-3862.

Memorial Service, Flag Presentation Set May 31 By Beautification Group

A memorial service and flag presentation are scheduled by the Sunset Beach Beautification Committee for Memorial Day, Monday, May 31.

The event will take place at 9 a.m. at the beach gazebo. Invited guests include Mayor Mason Barber, the Sunset Beach Town Council and other local dignitaries. The newly designed Town of Sunset Beach flag will be officially presented, and the flag-raising ceremony will mark the first time that the national, state and local flags fly in unison.

Special recognition to the late Cathy Peed, whose original design became the basis for the Sunset Beach flag, will be included in the program.

The public is invited to attend.

Literacy Council Recognizes Tutors

The Brunswick County Literacy Council at its May 13 meeting recognized three volunteers for achieving Master Laubach Tutor status by reaching 300 hours of one-on-one tutoring during the past year.

They are Norma Buckbee of Boiling Spring Lakes, Sue McCann of Shallotte and Isabel Taylor of Ocean Isle Beach.

Volunteers receiving senior tutor certificates for documenting 40 hours of tutoring were Long Beach residents Aileen Wood, Genevieve Erway, Janet Greenfield and Evelyn Loukas; Victor Nicoladse and Dee Caudle, Supply; John Richardson, Ocean Isle Beach; Walt Anderson, Southport; and Mary Lu DiFazio and Ethel Green of Sunset Beach.

The following were elected to serve on the executive board beginning July 1: Joseph Giamalva, chairman; Patricia Ebert, vice-chair; Karen McSwain, secretary; and Tom Cluchey, treasurer.

The meeting concluded with a talk by economics professor Dr. John Morgan, who emphasized the necessity for upgrading literacy skills in order for the United States to remain competitive in a global society.

The literacy council provides free tutoring for those who wish to improve their basic reading and writing skills. It also provides free training for volunteers. For additional information, call the literacy council at 754-7323.
