

Car Lands Under Mobile Home After Running A Stop Sign Saturday

A driver ran a stop sign and then drove into and under a mobile home Saturday night at Sunset Beach.

Tammy Carter, 34, of Sunset Beach, was charged with a stop sign violation by Trooper D.B. Harvell of the N.C. Highway Patrol. She was transported to The Brunswick Hospital at Supply with severe but non-incapacitating injuries.

According to the officer's report, the accident happened at 10:20 p.m. Carter was traveling east on Shoreline Drive in a 1983 Mazda and failed to stop for the stop sign at the intersection with Park Road. The car ran into a yard, striking first a mailbox and then a mobile home. The Mazda came to rest under the mobile home.

Damage was estimated at $3,000 to the Mazda and $2,000 to the mobile home.

Three 16-year-old drivers were involved in a June 4 accident that happened at 1:10 p.m. just west of the Shallotte town limits on N.C. 130, the Whiteville Road.

The three cars were traveling east on N.C. 130 when the first two stopped for traffic and the third did not, according to the report filed by Trooper D.B. Harvell.

The first car, a 1985 Dodge, was operated by Jamie Gray of Shallotte. He was followed by Stanley Russ of Sunset Beach, driving a 1989

Mercury. The third driver was James Cook of Supply, driving a 1982 Buick.

Cook struck the Mercury in the rear, and the Mercury then struck the Dodge in the rear. Damages were estimated at $800 to the Dodge, $2,000 to the Mercury and $1,000 to the Buick. Cook was charged with failure to reduce speed.

None of the drivers was injured. Kristy Weimer, 16, of Shallotte, a passenger in the Russ vehicle, had minor injuries, and Brian Campbell, 16, also of Shallotte, had serious but non-incapacitating injuries. Both were transported to The Brunswick Hospital.

Also Thursday, at 5:45 p.m., two persons were injured when one vehicle passed another, then collided head-on with an oncoming vehicle on N.C. 179 less than a mile west of Sunset Beach.

Joanne Larrimore, 47, of Shallotte, was eastbound on N.C. 179 in a 1986 Volkswagen. Willie Ford Jr., 29, of Navassa was westbound on N.C. 179, driving a 1984 Honda behind a unknown vehicle that had slowed in the westbound lane.

Ford was passing this vehicle and struck Larrimore's car head-on, reported Trooper W.H. Thompson. Both vehicles came to rest in the parking lot of the Serving Spoon Diner.

Ford was charged with improper passing and having no insurance.

Larrimore, who received serious, incapacitating injuries, and Ford, whose injuries were minor, were both transported to The Brunswick Hospital.

No charges were filed in an accident that occurred Wednesday, June 2, at 1:30 p.m. three-tenths of a mile east of Leland on U.S. 17.

Kenneth Ray Snead, 50, of Wilmington, was driving north on U.S. 17 in a 1992 Buick, following a large white van in the inside lane, according to Trooper B.C. Jones' report. Suddenly the van turned onto the right lane, as a gray vehicle was traveling south in the northbound lane partially on the pavement and partially on the grass median.

Snead told Jones he couldn't turn right because of traffic and so he turned toward the median to avoid the vehicle. His Buick rolled over once on the median.

Meanwhile, the "unknown gray vehicle" passed, then turned around and passed the scene and then fled, the report stated.

Snead was transported to New Hanover Regional Medical Center in Wilmington with serious, non-incapacitating injuries.

Damage to the Buick was estimated at $5,000.

Cost Of Shallotte Bypass Is Approaching $7 Million

The State Board of Transportation last Friday approved several funding requests for Brunswick County projects, including another $60,748 toward the final cost of the Shallotte bypass of U.S. 17.

Bypass construction was completed in September 1991 but the final cost has still not been determined. The latest sum approved by the board to cover an overdraft and for the final estimate brings the total project cost to approximately $7 million.

Also the board:

■approved the resurfacing of Sommersett Road (S.R. 1246) in the Seaside area, Sunset Beach, from N.C. 179 to its dead end, at a cost of $30,000;

■approved another $30,000 on preliminary engineering and utility costs on U.S. 17 from N.C. 211 north of Supply to N.C. 87 at Bell Swamp. This is in addition to the $680,000 already approved for those items.

■deleted Knox Street (S.R. 1404) and Corbett Road (S.R. 1405) in Bolivia from the state highway system.

Babcock Completes Principal Executive School

Judith Babcock of Sunset Beach, pupil personnel director with the Brunswick County Schools, has completed the Principals' Executive Program at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

She was among 37 principals and school officials chosen for the course.

Participants had to complete 160 hours of classroom work over four months covering law, curriculum, personnel management, communications, self-knowledge, technology and personal development.

Also they were required to read, complete study guides and discuss the contents of 13 books, 80 articles and 30 case studies; write papers on their educational philosophy and school or program leadership; and develop a long-range plan to improve some aspect of their school or program.

The goal was to encourage long-lasting changes in the participants as leaders, according to Robert Phay, program director and public law and government professor.

We teach the importance of raising expectations for students, faculty and parents; how to increase school effectiveness; and the need to develop and implement long-range school goals with the heavy involvement of faculty, staff and parents."

May Weather Was Warm, Dry

May 1993 was warm and dry, according to the monthly climatological report of the National Weather Service Wilmington office.

The daily high temperature averaged 81.8 and the low averaged 60.6 degrees, making the monthly average of 71.2 1.1 degrees above normal.

Highest temperature was 89 on the 17th. Lowest was 48 on the 23rd, a new record low for that date.

Precipitation for the month was 2.82 inches, or 1.61 inches below normal. Only seven days had measurable rain, compared with a normal of 9.6 days for May.

The highest wind gust was 32 miles an hour from the northwest on the 21st. The fastest one-minute average speed was 23 mph from the northwest, also on the 21st. The average daily wind speed was 8.2 mph compared with a normal of 9.2 for the month.

Five days recorded thunderstorms, which is near normal for the month.

Wilmington had 12 clear days, compared with a May normal of 8.4. Partly cloudy days numbered 11, and cloudy days, 8, compared with a normal of 12 cloudy days for the month.

Sunshine was 78 percent, compared with a monthly normal of 67 percent.

Highest sea-level pressure was 30.26 inches on the 3rd. Lowest was 29.65 on the 14th.

For the spring season of March through May, temperatures averaged about 1.4 degrees below normal. Spring precipitation was 3.7 inches above normal, thanks to a very wet April.
