St. John 3:

16 For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life.
17 For God sent not His Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through Him might be saved.
18 He that believeth in Him is not condemned; but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.

HOLY ST. JUDE, APOSTLE & Martyr, great in virtue, rich in miracles, near Kinsman of Jesus Christ, Faithful Incessor of all who invoke Your special patronage in time of need. To You I have recourse from the depth of my heart and humbly beg to whom God has given such great power to come to my assistance. Help in my present, urgent petition. In return, I promise to make Your name known and cause You to be invoked. I promise to publish this Novena. (Now say 3 Our Fathers, 3 Hail Marys and 3 Glorias.) St. Jude, pray for us and all who invoke Your aid. This Novena must be said for 9 consecutive days, and has never been known to fail. Thank you St. Jude. T.C.

Courtesy Is A State Of Mind

BY BILL DEARMAN, EXECUTIVE VICE-PRESIDENT South Brunswick Islands Chamber of Commerce
It is Monday morning. The alarm went off at 6 and, after pushing the snooze button for the third time, you roll out of bed at 6:30. Into the kitchen you walk, half awake, half asleep, trusting that you remembered to set the coffee pot.
When you turn the corner, there it is, steaming hot and waiting. You reach for a cup, get the milk out of the refrigerator, and reach for the sugar bowl. As you pour your first cup, the aroma fills the air with that wonderful fresh coffee smell.
With the first sip, one eye opens. Another swallow and the other eye opens. A few minutes to look over the morning newspaper or catch the major news on the morning news show, and it is off to the shower.
As that warm water flows over your face, you begin to feel even more awake. Out of the shower, a quick brush of the teeth, a shave, and you're ready for the world.
Now, let's see, will I wear the blue shirt or the white one? O.K., it is the blue one today. Into the suit and tie and we are off to give the spouse a kiss, the dog a pat, and off to work we go. The sun is shining, the birds are singing, and all is right with the world—that is, until we get behind the wheel of the car.
The car behind us is going too fast, the one in front, too slow. The line at the stop sign is too long. The car in front of you wants to make a left turn and will not pull out into the turning lane. By the time you arrive at work, you are five minutes late, and the boss gives you a hard look because the phone is ringing off the wall.
You pick up the telephone and your first words are, "What do you want?" What a way to greet your first customer of the day! This person is the reason we all have jobs. We need them. They can take their business to someone else.
The next time the morning rush gets the best of you—and your usual friendly disposition is left somewhere between the front door of your home and the front door of your place of work—remember it only takes a moment to stop and recall where you left it. A kind word from a cheerful voice will win you more friends and customers.

DEARMAN

BUSINESS BRIEFS

CP&L Parks Program Cited

Carolina Power & Light's Adopt State Parks program has been selected the top environmental program in the country by the Edison Electric Institute (EEI), the electric utility industry's trade association.
In recognizing CP&L with a 1993 Common Goals award, EEI chose the Adopt State Parks program for the top award from among 34 utility environmental programs around the country.
In 1991, CP&L became the nation's first corporate sponsor of a state park system when the program was established in North Carolina. The company committed $144,000 over four years for environmental education, volunteer programs and a grant program challenging other industries to adopt North Carolina state parks.
Since then, CP&L volunteers have completed or started on state park projects worth nearly $200,000 in savings to the state parks system, according to company figures. The projects have included building picnic tables, painting and rewiring buildings, clearing trails and surveying park property.
The Adopt State Parks program also includes seven state parks in South Carolina.

Marks Milestone
