For more information contact the Continuing Education Department at 754-6900, 343-0203, 457-6329 or 754-6922.

Marine Business Expo, Conference Slated Oct. 1-2

The 1993 N.C. Marine Expo Trade Show and Conference will feature more than 60 marine industry exhibitors from around the country who provide products and services to more than 2,000 marine businesses in North Carolina.

The event will take place Oct. 1-2 in the Wilmington Convention Center.

In addition to the trade show, there will be 20 seminars and half-day workshops to help marine business owners and employees market, manage and operate their businesses.

Mike Bradley, director of the Small Business and Technology Development Center N.C. Marine Trades Program, administers the annual event. He also chairs the expo's seminar and workshop component through the UNC-Wilmington Division of Public Service and Extended Education.

For more information and phone registration, call Bradley at (919)395-3351.

State Forestry Offering Seedlings For '94 Season

The N.C. Division of Forest Resources is accepting orders for forest tree seedlings for the 1994 planting season.

The seedlings are available to any North Carolina landowners. Many are grown from stock that has been genetically improved for better growth and quality.

Species available include improved loblolly pine, Atlantic white cedar and bald cypress. Several hardwood species also are available, including sycamore, yellow poplar and black walnut.

This year, for the first time, the division is offering a "wildlife pack" containing a mixture of seedlings to provide food for birds and animals.

The division continues to offer its environmental packs of seedlings for landowners interested in planting the trees most common to their areas of the state. Educational packets containing loblolly pine and white

Sea Trail Expansion

Three wooden buildings formerly located on the N.C. Oyster Festival site at the intersection of N.C. 904 and 179 near Sunset Beach have been transformed into the Jones-Byrd Pavilion near Sea Trail Plantation's Jones-Byrd Clubhouse. Surrounded by covered porches, the pavilion overlooks the Byrd Golf Course and will be used for exhibits, food functions and performances. The expansion, completed in early September, adds 6,500 square feet of meeting space to Sea Trail, bringing the resort's total meeting space to 14,000 square feet.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

New Hospice Nurse Joins Staff

Evelyn King has joined the Brunswick County staff of Lower Cape Fear Hospice as a registered nurse.

She will be responsible for physical assessments, nursing care planning and symptom management for Hospice patients. King, formerly with the Hamilton Medical Center of Dalton, Ga., lives in Long Beach.

Lower Cape Fear Hospice provides a medically-directed program of care for patients with limited life expectancies in Bladen, Brunswick, Columbus, New Hanover, Onslow and Pender counties. Focusing on the physical, psychological, social and spiritual needs of the patients and their families, the program is designed to improve the quality of life during illness, death and bereavement.

Two Workshops Today

Two workshops today (Thursday, Sept. 23) on the main campus of Brunswick Community College close out Brunswick County Business Development Week.

Mazie Frink of the N.C. Employment Security Commission will discuss "Finding Qualified Employees" from 6:30 p.m.-7:45 p.m.

Then from 8 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.,

Lanny Loftis of the Small Business Administration and David Pickett, Microenterprise Loan Program agent, will discuss "Financing a Small Business."

Both seminars are cosponsored by the South Brunswick Islands Chamber of Commerce.

As space is limited, pre-registration is requested by calling the BCC Small Business Center at 754-6900, 457-6329 or 343-0203.

Increase Productivity

Improving personal effectiveness and productivity is the goal of a professional development workshop offered Tuesday, Sept. 28, through the Brunswick Community College Small Business Center.

Led by Rosan Hutter, the 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. session will help participants identify the roles they play in their personal and professional lives and learn how to develop an action plan and prioritize daily activities.

The workshop is offered at no charge to participants. However, since space is limited, pre-registration is required by calling the Small Business Center at 754-6900, 343-0203 or 457-6329 or by facsimile, 754-7805.

Water Lines To Be Flushed

Caroline Blythe Utility Company operators say they will be flushing water lines Sept. 27-30.

Customers of the utility may find their water appears to be dirty on those days, and should "be careful" about washing laundry and drinking the water on those days, according to office manager Jackie McLean.

Residents of the following subdivisions may be affected: Carolina Shores, the Village at Calabash, Saitaire Village, Cedar Tree, Carolina Shores Village, Carolina Shores Resorts and Fairway Villas.

If anyone has the need, we have the time to teach you to read.
