Nuclear Regulators Slate Meetings At Local Plant

U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission officials planned to hold two meetings with Carolina Power & Light Co. officials this week at the Brunswick Nuclear Plant near Southport.

The first meeting, Wednesday, Dec. 15, at 7 p.m., was to discuss the company's plans for the early 1994 restart of Unit 1, which has been out of service since April 1992.

The meeting was to be held in the plant visitor and training center, open to observation by the public and news media representatives. After the meeting, officials were to be available to answer questions.

Immediately after the proceedings, Region II NRC

Administrator Stewart D. Ebner planned to hold a news conference with area reporters to discuss a wide range of nuclear regulatory matters.

Today (Thursday) NRC officials will discuss with CP&L officials results of the most recent Systematic Assessment of Licensee Performance (SALP) report, which gave the Brunswick Plant its highest ratings to date.

That meeting begins at 9 a.m., also in the plant visitor and training center, and is open to observation by the public and news media representatives. Officials will be available afterward to answer questions concerning the contents of the report.

The South Brunswick Islands Chamber of Commerce is seeking nominations for "Citizen of the Year."

The annual award is presented to an outstanding volunteer who has given unselfishly of his or her time to the chamber and the community.

Nominations will be accepted in letter form. Letters should detail what the person being nominated has done for his or her community. The "Citizen of the Year" will be awarded at the chamber's annual meeting Feb. 4.

The deadline for nominations is Dec. 22. Letters should be sent to the South Brunswick Islands Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 1380, Shallotte NC 28459.

SBA Loans To Brunswick Countians Top $1 Million

Brunswick County entrepreneurs were given three Small Business Administration loans totaling just over $1 million during 1993, according to a news release.

Statewide, 438 loans were approved from October 1992 through September 1993, totaling more than $119 million. The loans were made in the 68 of North Carolina's 100 counties and helped small businesses create or retain more than 3,300 jobs, the release stated.

"This year represents another record-breaking year for the Charlotte District office," said District Director Gary A. Keel. "In FY 1992, 390 loans were made for $87,974,000. FY 1993 figures represent a 12 percent increase in the number of loans and a 36 percent increase in the dollar amount."

"Even though the SBA ran out of money for ten weeks in the summer, we were still able to exceed last year's figures. This provides that small firms need more capital to expand."

Congress approved a supplemental appropriation which allowed

SBA to meet the demand.

SBA loans are made primarily by private lenders, usually banks, guaranteed up to 90 percent by SBA. Loan programs include working capital loans, small loans (under $25,000), contract loans, export revolving line of credit, and the Green Line Loan Program, a five-year line of credit.

Small businesses or individuals interested in SBA financing should contact a local bank or the Charlotte District office at 200 North College St., Suite A-2015, Charlotte NC 28202, or call (704)334-6563.
