

Live The Good Life In Calabash!

Calabash, the southernmost town in North Carolina, was once known only as "The Seafood Capital of the World." Its reputation for idyllic retirement living is fast outdistancing its seafood fame.

Our town is not for everyone. You won't find neon lights, beaches lined with condominium complexes and a hectic lifestyle. What you will find is a "downtown" still described as a tiny fishing village where you can watch shrimp boats bring in their catches.

Property is affordable here, and we boast some of the friendliest neighborhoods you have ever known. If you think you would enjoy being a part of our town, please use the coupon below.
