Awards Given To Outstanding BCC Graduates Of '94

Seven Brunswick Community College students were recognized at the 14th annual commencement exercises. Vice President for Student Development Beth McLean presented the awards during the ceremony. Jan I. Carlton, an Administrative Office Technology graduate, was given the Brunswick Community College President's Award. Each year the award is given to the student most outstanding in scholastic achievement and leadership qualities. She was Student Government Association president for the 1993-94 academic year, and a student ambassador.

The Outstanding Student Award is given annually to a technical, vocational and one general education student. Selected as Outstanding was Katherine Victoria Graham, an administrative office technology graduate and a student ambassador.

Thelma B. Boyer was selected outstanding vocational student. She was an ambassador and a cosmetology graduate.

Mark Rosser Laugisch was named Outstanding General Education Student. The Citizenship Award was presented to Dwayne Russell Mitchener Jr. The electronics engineering technology graduate was an ambassador. Two nursing awards were also presented. The Steven Allen White Nursing Scholarship was presented to Peggy S. Millwood. It is a $500 cash award and plaque given annually to the nursing student who has demonstrated outstanding scholastic achievement, high standards of professionalism and service to the college.

BCC Pins 34 Nurses In Southport Ceremony

Twenty-three graduates of Brunswick Community College's Practical Nursing Program received their nurses' pins in an Aug. 17 ceremony at Southport Baptist Church.

Two nursing graduates received special honors for their commitment.

BCC Vice President for Student Development Beth McLean presented practical nursing graduate Peggy Sue Millwood with the Steven Allen White Award. The $500 cash award and plaque were established as a memorial tribute to their son by Carl and Anita White.

The Esther Swan Fraser $300 award and plaque were presented to nursing graduate Sandy Jo Moody by McLean. The award is given annually in memory of their sister by Margaret Hood and Marie S. Harris.

Each of the graduating nurses received a nursing pin, a nursing postal stamp pin and a flower from their instructors. During the candle-lighting segment of the ceremony, each nursing graduate also received a small Florence Nightingale lamp. Each lit their lamp, symbolizing the knowledge and skills learned in the nursing program, from a large central lamp.

Crystal Floyd, R.N., director of professional services at Comprehensive Home Health Care, gave the keynote address.

BCC Director of Nursing Connie B. Milliken, R.N., and BCC President W. Michael Reaves, Ed.D., opened the pinning ceremony with welcome addresses.

The Rev. Wayne Trexler, pastor of Southport Baptist Church, gave the invocation and benediction. Amaretta Prevatte, organist for Southport Baptist Church, provided music. Soloist Robert D. Floyd of Holden Beach provided special music during the ceremony.
