Aldwin Lance Sidelined At Appalachian State

(Continued From Page 1) troversial call in the third quarter when ASU recovered a fumbled snap in the end zone for an apparent touchdown. The officials ruled that timeout had been called prior to the fumble.

"They had a lot of breaks. The one in the end zone was obviously a fumble and they didn't call it," Lance said. "Plus we got ACC referees and they didn't help much."

Appalachian rushed for 174 yards in the game, something that has Lance chomping at the bit and eager to return to the lineup.

"We're a running team. If our running's on our passing game will come through," Lance said. "I'm looking forward to holding the ball a lot."

For a team that finished 4-4 in the Southern Conference in 1993, Lance and his teammates have lofty expectations for this season.

"Everybody's got the feeling that we're going to go through the conference unbeaten. That's our feeling right now," Lance said.

"We're kind of down tonight because we figured we'd come in here and dominate and win. We dominated, but we didn't win. So everybody's kind of down right now."

Lance said he thinks some of the stronger Southern Conference teams, like Marshall and Georgia Southern, could beat Wake Forest.

"We're kind of upset we didn't beat them. We were the better team from the first man to the last man. We just didn't get the job done," he said.

The loss will not affect Appalachian's conference record or its chances of qualifying for the Division 1-AA playoffs. This weekend's game is more important in terms of national ranking.

Lance said he's looking forward to seeing former West Brunswick teammate Steve Brooks, a freshman offensive lineman at North Carolina A&T.

"We picked on him this summer," Lance said with a smile. "They're coming up to the mountains, and they can't take that thin air. I'm looking forward to facing him. We can't face each other on the field, but team-wise."
