

Motorist Charged With DWI Following Wreck On 904

A Scotland County man was charged with driving while impaired following a two-vehicle accident last Friday on N.C. 904 near Grissetown.

The accident happened at 5:15 p.m. approximately 2.1 miles north of Sunset Beach, according to a report filed by Trooper R.L. Murray of the N.C. Highway Patrol.

A 1991 Ford truck driven by Frederick Dickerson, 21, of Supply, and a 1993 GMC truck operated by Julian Butler III, 27, of Laurinburg, were traveling north on N.C. 904.

Murray's report indicated that the GMC truck attempted to pass the Ford in the left lane. To avoid oncoming traffic, the GMC swerved back into the right lane and struck the left front portion of the Ford.

Both trucks ran off the right side of the road and overturned. Murray reported that both drivers complained of injuries, but neither was taken to the hospital for treatment.

Murray charged Butler with driving while impaired.

Damage to the GMC truck was estimated at $5,000, and the Ford sustained approximately $4,500 in damages.

Two Are Injured

Two Brunswick County residents suffered minor injuries in a two-vehicle accident last Thursday at the intersection of N.C. 904 and Russtown Road. The wreck occurred at 4:55 p.m. approximately 6.8 miles west of Shallotte.

Michael Brinsfield, 34, of Shallotte, was driving a 1985 Ford south on N.C. 904, and Flora Frink, 31, of Longwood was traveling north on N.C. 904 in a 1987 Nissan.

A report filed by Trooper T.W. Caulder says the Ford slowed down to turn left onto Russtown Road, and stopped after Brinsfield saw the oncoming Nissan.

The Ford stopped in the intersection left of the center line, and the Nissan slid into the front of the Ford. Brinsfield was charged with a yield violation.

Both drivers complained of minor injuries and were taken to The Brunswick Hospital in Supply.

Caulder estimated damage to the Nissan at $2,000, while the Ford sustained about $1,500 in damage.

Dangerous Intersection

The intersection of U.S. 17 and N.C. 904 was the site of yet another traffic accident last week.

State transportation officials plan to put a traffic light at the crossroads, where several accidents have occurred since the recent opening of the four-lane U.S. 17.

Three local residents suffered minor injuries and were taken to The Brunswick Hospital following a two-vehicle accident last Wednesday at 7:45 p.m.

Trooper Murray reported that David Bowser, 52, of Shallotte, was driving a 1986 Cadillac east on U.S. 17.

Pamela Cobb, 31, of Ash, was driving a 1987 Chevrolet north on N.C. 904 and tried to cross U.S. 17.

The Chevrolet struck the Cadillac in the right front panel, causing an estimated $19,000 damage to the Cadillac and $3,200 to the Chevrolet.

Injured were Cobb, Bowser and a passenger in the Cadillac, 48-year-old Jessica Bowser of Shallotte.

Murray charged Cobb with a yield violation.

Shallotte Wreck

Also last Wednesday, the Highway Patrol investigated a 12:05 p.m. wreck at the intersection of U.S. 17 Bypass and U.S. 17 Business south of Shallotte.

Trooper B.C. Jones reported that a 1987 Nissan truck driven by Taryn Haley, 35, of Whiteville, was traveling north on U.S. 17 Bypass.

Edward Pratt, 30, of Calabash, was driving a 1991 Acura and was attempting to cross the northbound lanes of the bypass from U.S. 17 Business when the vehicles collided.

Pratt was charged with failure to yield.

Haley complained of minor injuries and was taken to The Brunswick Hospital. Pratt was not injured.

Jones estimated damage to the Acura at $5,000 and damage to the Nissan at $4,000.

Judge, County Manager Will Speak At Community Meeting

Thirteenth District Court Judge Ola Lewis Bray and Brunswick County Manager Wyman Yelton will be the guest speakers at a community meeting Saturday, Oct. 1, at 5 p.m. at Pleasant Grove Baptist Church on U.S. 17 at Thomasboro.

Sponsored by Shingletree community leader Robert Gore and Southport-Brunswick County NAACP Branch President Nat Parker, the meeting is intended to support incorporation of Goretown, said Gore, as well as encouraging economic development and bringing about a better quality of life within the black community.

Judge Bray will discuss family values and crime prevention, while Yelton will discuss the function of government at the municipal and county levels and economic development.

Gore said entertainment will be provided by Larona Johnson Gore and others.
