

Winter Solstice Concert Features Holiday Music At BCC Auditorium

Brunswick County will herald the holiday season early when the Odell Williamson Auditorium opens its first full performance season Friday, Nov. 11, with the Winter Solstice Concert.

Curtain time is 8 p.m. for a show that will feature ensemble and solo work by three gifted musical artists from Windham Hill Records.

This year's Winter Solstice Concert tour features composer and pianist Liz Story, performing with guest artist bassist Joel DiBartolo, as well as fellow label artists The Modern Mandolin Quartet and Trinidadian steel drummer Andy Narell. Story's current release, The Gift, is an acoustic collection of traditional carols, hymns, chants and secular standards of the holiday season, her first solo Christmas album.

Her music is described as taking shape "at the elusive intersection of classical, jazz, folk and a century's worth of popular keyboard literature," performed in a style "sometimes whimsical, sometimes haunting, yet always spellbinding."

Bassist Joel DiBartolo, appearing with Story, performed with the Tonight Show Band for 17 years.

The Modern Mandolin Quartet has a reputation for virtuosity, engaging arrangements of classical works and excellent contemporary arrangements written for the ensemble, as well as a warm stage presence. The quartet's latest work, Pan

American Journeys features works by 20th century composers of the Americas. The quartet is comprised of Mike Marshall and Dana Rath on mandolins, Paul Binkley on mandola and John Imholz on monochello.

Andy Narell will bring a tropical feel to the holiday season on his first Winter Solstice tour. Narell successfully merges the steel pan's distinctive ring with American jazz, Caribbean and more recently, a melange of Latin influences. His music was recently heard in the film "The Firm."

This appearance at BCC is the third of 28 performances for the Winter Solstice Concert tour. The tour began Wednesday at Appalachian State University in Boone, with a stop today at Spirit Square in Charlotte and concludes Jan. 27 in Utah.

In its sixth season, the concert tour was created to complement the success of the four Windham Hill Winter Solstice albums featuring original and traditional holiday music.

The Odell Williamson Auditorium is on the Brunswick Community College main campus on U.S. 17 north of Supply. Box office hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays. Season or single-show tickets may also be ordered by telephone and charged to either of two major credit cards. Call 754-3133, or Ext. 406 using any of BCC's other numbers, 754-6900, 457-6329 or 343-0203.
