Home Canning Is Best Answer To Food Crisis

"If North Carolinians want to eat in 1943," says Dean I. O. Schaub, director of the State College Extension Service, "it is imperative for farm and urban families who have the land to grow a garden and practice home canning next year." He said that approximately one-half of the estimated 1943 commercial pack of canned vegetables, fruits and juices has been reserved for the Government.

A recent War Production Board order specifies that all of the commercially canned carrots, blueberries, figs and blended orange and grapefruit juice must be reserved for the armed forces and lend-lease shipments.

In addition, said Schaub, the Government will need 84 percent of all the beets, 71 percent of the tomato puree and fruit cocktail, 70 percent of the cherries and pineapple, 68 percent of the peaches and apples, 61 percent of the tomato catsup, 58 percent of the snap beans, 56 percent of the lima beans, 49 percent of the tomatoes, 48 percent of the spinach and peas, and 42 percent of the sweet corn canned by commercial packers.

"My daughter has arranged a little piece for the piano."
"Good! It's time we had a little peace."

We Thank You

We thank you, our customers and friends, for such a splendid volume of business in 1942. We shall continue to deliver the goods — as well as the service in 1943.

We find it necessary at this time, due to the new rationing of Foods, to announce that we will, beginning immediately, limit quantities on the purchase of Canned Goods, and we hope you will see this step as a benefit to you as well as ourselves.

There is sufficient stock to last until rationing begins, if we limit quantities. Otherwise we will be sold out and cannot replace stock. We shall do whatever is in our power to keep our shelves stocked . . . depend on that.

Make our Store your regular source of supply in 1943, and you can be sure of the maximum allowed by the Government.
