Heavier Taxes Inevitable

While we have no figures for North Carolina, a Washington dispatch says that the Ruml Plan version will result in a per capita "forgiveness" which ranges from $7 in North Dakota to $730 in Delaware.

Frankly, we are not interested in any alleged "forgiveness" because what comes to the taxpayer in this manner will be more than taken from him by other and additional taxation.

Despite the long debate in Congress, the propaganda that fooled millions of Americans and the efforts of politicians to acquire a flicker of popularity, the fact remains that the nation is spending so much money for war purposes that heavier taxation is inevitable.

So far as we can see, it makes little difference to the average citizen whether the money is taken from him on the basis of a 1942 income tax or a 1943 war-financing tax. The net result for most little Americans will be heavier than ever and there is no way to avoid them.

Aerial War A Second Front

The ever-pounding aerial offensive against Axis-held Europe is reaching an intensity that compels observers to recognize that the strategy of bombing enemy centers has created a second front.

These attacks make it clear that strategic bombing will receive a full trial and that an effort is being made to completely disrupt Axis industry and destroy Axis defenses.

Already, it is reported that the Germans are not repairing major industrial establishments in the bombing zones, apparently transferring them to Southeastern Europe in an effort to escape the bombers.

During the month of May, the United States lost 72 bombers operating against Europe from Great Britain, and the British lost 228 aircraft.

In the previous four months of the year, American losses were only 85 bombers, while British losses were 601.

Thus, in May, the combined air force casualties were 300 bombers as compared to 686 in the first four months of the year. This indicates the extent to which the aerial offensive has been unleashed.

While there is considerable speculation as to the full fruits of an aerial offensive, it is certain that terrific damage is being inflicted upon enemy industrial centers.

The fact that our air forces accept the loss of 300 planes in a month, together with the loss of their crews, definitely indicates that, in the opinion of our high command, the bombing of Germany is expected to produce astonishing results.

While Europe was being plastered with explosives, the Mediterranean islands and Italy were visited daily by heavy air fleets, often involving as many as three hundred planes.

"Mrs. Cincinnatus"

Among farm women in war industries count the farm wife. It is she who has much to do with furnishing the food which sustains other women at their labors in ordnance or munitions plants, in addition to providing sustenance for men on the fighting fronts.

While she may not spend long, well-paying hours in airplane factories, she is vastly concerned in turning out an equally important variety of "wings"—poultry, which, by taking the place of meats, enables hundreds of housewives to conserve precious ration points, and eggs, which in addition to furnishing war workers' breakfasts, when dehydrated and sent abroad, provide a welcome change of menu for America's armed forces and the civilian populations of embattled nations.

In these doubly busy times she is held at home. Her hands nonetheless reach across the sea to offer, under lend-lease agreements, steaks, bacon and other meats. Many ruralists, busy from dawn to dusk overcoming

Shortage Of Anti-freeze Again Faces Motorists

Increased war demands for anti-freeze chemicals, necessitating government regulations prohibiting the sale of "ethylene-glycol" type, commonly known as "permanent" anti-freeze for ordinary use, are cited by Ed Hedner, Chevrolet national director of service, as an urgent reason why car and truck users should take special pains to conserve this fluid.

In line with their Victory Service League pledge to "Save the Wheels that Serve America," Chevrolet dealers are cooperating fully with car and truck owners in conserving anti-freeze solutions, not only to save critical chemicals but also to assure future cold weather operation of motor vehicles.

the farm labor shortage, are leaving the care and feeding of livestock largely to their wives. And the wives, especially those with 4-H Club training, are meeting the emergency with entire success.

She has not donned slacks to build General Grants, but she has more than a nodding acquaintance with the tank's younger brother, the tractor, and can put it through its paces before plow or harrow. Many a seeded field bears witness to the farm wife's determination and adaptability. While women war workers use their pay checks to buy bonds, she dips deep into her "butter and egg" money for a like purpose. Her bond buying has enabled many a rural community to meet its quota.

Farm wives are serving their country well in 1943. They may be likened to those "high privates in the rear ranks" whose names are seldom mentioned in dispatches. But they win battles. — Christian Science Monitor.

ANNOUNCER:

"Are you up-to-date on your own eligibility for tires, or recapping? You are probably doing all you can to stretch the life of your tires—watching your speed and tire pressures closely—avoiding unnecessary driving. This is patriotic, for rubber is scarce. But the Government wants your car kept rolling, and the new mileage rationing tire regulations make more drivers eligible to have worn tires recapped or replaced. Holders of A, B or C books who can show essential need for replacement, are eligible. So, when one of your tires become worn, or unsafe, see an authorized tire inspector to find out if he is warranted in recommending a recap or replacement to your local ration board. Many Pure Oil dealers have been appointed official OPA tire inspectors. See the one nearest you for inspections, replacements, or the frequent services which lengthen tire life."
