Who Can Tell Us Why?

Every now and then, the newspapers tell us of a wealthy person, who lives like a pauper and dies from malnutrition.

Early this month, in Miami, Florida, following the death of a woman who had lived in a house for eight years, police found $20,000 in cash and nearly $80,000 in negotiable securities.

The woman died in a hospital after being sent there by neighbors, who found her suffering from malnutrition.

If anybody thinks that they understand human nature, they might come forward with an explanation of this type of behavior.

Childish Conflicts

Every young child is trying to exist under two sets of laws, declares Dr. C. Anderson Aldridge, pediatrician, who suggests that parents confront a lot of needless problems in bringing up young children.

Dr. Aldridge points out that children naturally obey the laws of growth, "more ancient than the race", which work from within. On the other hand, laws of social order, recent and differing in localities, are imposed from without. The conflict between these laws requires adjustment.

Consequently, Dr. Aldridge suggests reliance on persuasion, guidance and example rather than on corporal punishment or force. He thinks that corporal punishment has failed to get proper results in the education of children over the years.

Federal Workers

During the fiscal year, 1948, which closed June 30th, the average civilian employment, in the Executive Branch of the Federal Government, was 2,032,600 workers.

This was about sixty per cent of the 3,465,420 average in 1945, the peak year of the war.

While the number of employes has been increasing recently, there has been a considerable decrease since the war emergency. Whether the Government needs more than two million employes is a matter beyond us, but a break-down of those employed and where they work suggests that as long as the people demand that the Government "do everything" there will be millions of government-aid employes.

Land Of Freedom?

The next thing you know, somebody will be getting a petition in Congress to provide freedom for steers.

Recently, a noble animal, penned in a railroad car at Philadelphia, broke loose, vaulted a wall and enjoyed liberty until police fired 150 shots to bring him down.

The incident will afford ample justification for the allegation that the people of this country are unkind to steers and that the animals crave more freedom. After all, isn't this the land of freedom?

Covers Too Much Ground

After meeting for two weeks in Geneva, the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations is bogged down in its agenda, which includes forty-eight items. Only five subjects have been discussed during two and a half weeks.

This situation has brought forward the suggestion that the organization loses much of its usefulness in attempting to spread-eagle over so many subjects, upon which it can have no effect. For example, a reporter points out that the Council spent twenty hours wrangling over a report of the Commission on the Status of Women, which will lead to no action on the part of any government or body capable of doing anything about the subject.

Consequently, some of those who are friendly to the United Nations and its purposes suggest the number of specialized agencies and commissions must be drastically cut. This of special interests, but, unless some will, of course, arouse the opposition thing of the kind is done, the Council will spend most of its time debating subjects upon which nothing can be accomplished. In addition, it is pointed out that the number of international conferences would be greatly reduced if the agenda of the Council is limited. The United Nations' budget has practically doubled in two years, largely as a result of the innumerable conferences which, these critics say, have been premature and without results.

Kidneys Must Work Well

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

some writers asserting that the European countries are showing no indication of the cooperation necessary to make the E. R. P. succeed. In fact, there is something heard about the "sacrifices" that these nations will make as a condition for receiving the money of Uncle Sam.

It is very difficult for a person not on the inside of the Government circle to determine just what is the truth in connection with such assertions. Certainly, if the European nations fail to make any effort to improve their economic conditions, Administrator Paul G. Hoffman would not hesitate to advise the Government of the United States.

Without knowing the facts and without being able to conduct an investigation, there is nothing for us to do but to leave this matter to responsible officials and hope that they will work it out in a proper manner.
