We Can Sell If We Buy

The United States will progressively relax restrictions upon the shipment of American goods to all parts of the world, declares W. Averell Harriman, of the Economic Cooperation Administration.

This is interesting in view of the fact that shortage of dollars, all over the world, is gradually closing the market for American goods everywhere. Only the assistance of the Marshall plan has made it possible for European nations to purchase things in this country for the past year.

It would be more significant if the United States government would announce plans for the progressive removal of barriers that impede the import of goods into the United States. This means, in the first place, a steady reduction of tariffs that prevent other nations from selling their products in this country.

The natural reaction of many people will be that we cannot buy goods from other nations because it will cause unemployment. This overlooks the fact that if we get goods from other nations and ship them goods in return, the workers of this country will have to make the goods we send abroad.

With production in the United States geared up to war needs, the imperative need of foreign markets is apparent. This is doubly true in the case of agricultural products and it is becoming more and more true of manufactured products as well.

"Our Business" Nonsense

"It is our business when millions of people die of hunger in India or China," declares U. S. Senator Irving M. Ives, of New York.

This is a rather broad assertion. It is our business when people die of hunger anywhere in the world, the Congress of the United States should immediately begin making appropriations to feed the hungry and prevent their death.

Of course, the revenues of the United States Government are insufficient to prevent hunger and starvation. People have died in India and China for hundreds of years for the lack of food. The outpouring of the gold reserve of the United States would not prevent other millions from dying in the future.

While the New York Senator may have been making a rhetorical declaration, there is danger in the assumption that it is the "business" of this country whenever anything happens in the world, that does not conform to our civilized ideas.

The Senator from New York also expresses the belief that it is likewise "our business" when innocent people go to the gallows or in concentration camps "no matter how far away from us these crimes are committed." This means, if it means anything, that the United States should assume the burden of policing the world including wide open jungle and mountainous spaces. Obviously, this is another impossibility.

Time To Buy Bonds Again

Between the middle of May and the end of June, the people of the United States will be asked to purchase not less than $1,000,000,000 worth of savings bonds, with the assurance that such an investment will provide security for the purchasers and add to that of their country.

Some three million volunteer workers are expected to participate in the National Savings Bond program and they will be assisted by thousands of newsmen who are expected to carry the message into millions of American homes. State and county quotas will be assigned and every effort will be made to complete the sales job.

During the war, when the United States was fighting for its life, there was general appreciation of the necessity of buying war bonds to support the activities of the Government. Today, while not engaged in actual warfare, the nation is assuming extraordinary expenses closely associated with the security of the nation and the preservation of individual liberty in the world.

Under the circumstances, the people of Perquimans County will, we have no doubt, make an effort to reach the quota assigned to them. Doing so, they will be expressing not only their loyalty to their country, but also the wisdom that persuades individuals to save now for a rainy day.

It is needless to say anything about the security of the bonds offered for sale by the United States of America. Whatever money is invested in them will be safe. Consequently, we do not hesitate to urge every citizen to purchase at least one bond, with the size to be determined by the financial condition of the buyer.

4-H Club Girls Make 20 Million Meals In 1948 Food Program

Experience Helps Girls To Understand Food Values

Will 20 million meals placed end-to-end reach around the world? Nobody seems to know. But it is a fact that some 400,000 4-H Club girls last year planned, prepared and served 20 million meals as part of their training in the National 4-H food preparation program. In North Carolina, 8,555 were enrolled in the project, according to L. R. Harrill, State Club Leader, and the 1949 program is off to a good start.

Designed to help 4-H'ers understand food values from both health and economy standpoints, the program also develops desirable personal food habits. The youthful cooks range in age from 10 to 21 years, and as in all 4-H Club activities they "learn by doing." Use of home-produced food is stressed.

Merit awards will again be provided by Servel Home Economics Department. They are educational trips to the National 4-H Congress for state winners, gold-filled medals for county winners, and six $300 scholarships for members of a special blue award group. The Cooperative Extension Service supervises the program.

Mary Farmer of Tomotla won the 1948 state and Cherokee County awards. There were 59 additional county winners in North Carolina.

Truth is the highest thing that man may keep.

Kidneys Must Work Well

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging back-ache, headache, dizziness, rheumatic pains, swelling up at night, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulates the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Use Doan's today. Use with confidence. Get at drug stores.
