FRIDAY, JUNE 30, 1950

July 4th, 1950

On next Tuesday, July 4th, the people of the United States will celebrate the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence of the thirteen colonies in America, signed by the delegates to the Continental Congress, was, in some particulars, no more than a recognition of the existing state of affairs. Signed by John Hancock, the President of the Congress, on July 4th, the Declaration was subsequently engrossed on parchment and signed by fifty-three members of the Congress on August 2nd. Largely drafted by Thomas Jefferson, the Declaration of Independence expresses the essence of his own personal political philosophy. This, briefly, is the idea that men are created equal and endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, including life, liberty and pursuit of happiness.

Moreover, to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men and derive their just powers from the consent of the governed. The Declaration asserts whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute a new government laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as shall seem most likely to affect their safety and happiness. It seems strange, in this day, to reflect that the Declaration of Independence, which proclaimed the principles of the colonists in their war for independence does not express the spirit of some of the descendants of the men who fought under General Washington. Human nature being what it is, it is perhaps inevitable that there should be a large number of people in every country, devoted to the established order, whatever it is and however it may have worked.

Certainly, the writer admires the handiwork of those who framed the machinery of our Federal Government. But, at the same time, because we believe in the principles expressed in the Declaration of Independence, we find ourselves more tolerant of those who advocate changes, from time to time. However, in our opinion, the defects of our governmental system are due more to men than to the machinery of government and we, therefore, favor no radical change in it, although we recognize that, from time to time, some adjustments are necessary. In this connection, we would suggest that our readers celebrate the anniversary of the signing of this historic document by taking the necessary time to read its words. The reading will do them good.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES
As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold conditions slow down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.
If your symptoms are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 million of kidney, tubes and bladder that are weak. Get Doan's Pills today!
