Housewives in 37 states, from Connecticut to California, from Mississippi to Minnesota, are eagerly awaiting the answer to that question, for one of them may be the royal winner. Grand prize winners from 54 state and regional fairs will have their entries judged in the Madison Room of the Hotel Morrison in Chicago on November 15. The sewing queen and her two runners-up will be named by a panel of nationally known home economists.

Fishermen Realize More Income From Finfish-Shellfish

Commercial fishermen received more for finfish and shellfish they caught in North Carolina waters during the biennium 1954-55 than they did for the catches they made in the preceding two-year period.

This is shown in a report made public by the Department of Conservation and Development. It was compiled by C. Gehrman Holland, State fisheries commissioner and head of the C&D Department's commercial fisheries division at Horehead City.

Total value of finfish and shellfish caught from July 1, 1954, through June 30, 1956, on basis of reports made by the fishermen to Holland was $13,196,363. For the period July 1, 1952, through June 30, 1954, it was $13,067,418.

Hurricanes and other periods of bad weather during the 1954-56 period tended to handicap commercial fishermen in their fishing operations, Holland said. The hurricanes also did heavy damage to oyster beds and put crimps in shrimping and other operations, it was said.

A total of 60,326,862 pounds of food finfish were caught during the 1954-56 biennium. They had a value of $3,759,927.

More than 482 million menhaden, valuable for their oils and such by-products as poultry feed and other uses, were caught during the two-year period as compared with 406 million during the preceding two-year period. The menhaden, better known among coastal fishermen as "shad" or "pogies", had a value of $4,045,821 for 1954-56 against $2,438,574 during the preceding biennium.

Shellfish products had a value of $5,490,616 during 1954-56. The oyster catch totaled 10,630,881 pounds with heads off and had a monetary value to shrimpers of $4,212,352 as compared with 13,457,000 pounds taken during the preceding two-year period. Shrimp taken during 1952-54 had a value of $4,807,101 to the shrimpers who caught them.

Time Now Ripe To Get Scarce Tree Seedlings

"Forest tree seedlings are going like hotcakes this year," says John Gray, Extension specialist in charge of Forestry Extension at North Carolina State College. Landowners have already ordered over 80 per cent of the total supply available from the public nurseries, reports Gray. This is true despite the fact that the tree planting season will not start until December.

If you are planning to put land in trees this winter, get an order blank from your county agent or county forest ranger, fill it out, and send it to the State Forester at Raleigh right away, advises Gray.

Although all loblolly pine have been sold out, Gray indicates that 6,000,000 loblolly pine seedlings are available for purchase, along with 4,000,000 slash pine seedlings, and 100,000 red cedar seedlings. Except for those seedlings set aside for 4-H club members and FFA boys, all white pine and short-leaf pine have been sold out. Gray adds that plenty of loblolly pines are still available to these two groups. These trees are available free to 4-H and FFA members through courtesy of the pulpwood industry.

Another indication of the tight supply of tree seedlings, says Gray, is found in yellow poplar. All these have been sold out except for a small amount still available to adults through courtesy of the Forester and Vanner Council of the North Carolina Forestry Association.

In Southern North Carolina, the total allotment of free pine seedlings made available to landowners on a matching basis through the courtesy of the International Paper Company has been exhausted.

"If you want to plant trees," says Gray, "act now."

Did you know this fact about... NORTH CAROLINA

Less than a day's easy drive for most North Carolinians is the most popular National park in these United States—The Great Smoky Mountains—a dramatic color spectacle at this time of year—was visited by more than 2½ million people in 1955.

North Carolinians living in resort areas where malt beverages are sold under the State's "legal control" laws can also point to dramatic results in not only maintaining wholesome conditions for the legal sale of beer and ale, but affording a hospitable "attraction" to visitors and tourists.

Here's what put the magic in the new kind of FORD!

It started with the "Inner Ford." When Ford planned this baby, they thought in terms of a car through-and-through new. The wheels got smaller. This Ford is so new that even the wheels have changed. Now smaller and broader, they help you take off quickly.

The wheelbase got longer . . . so now you can choose between a Ford that's over 16 ft. long—or one over 17 ft. long!

The frame got wider. Side rails bow out to give a more stable, safer riding platform . . . a lower, sleeker silhouette.

The ride got smoother. With new suspension, new springing front and rear, the ride this new Ford gives is the smoothest ever.

The handling got easier. Poised and balanced like a panther, this car has sweep-back front suspension that works its magic when you need it most.

The power got hotter. There's a wide range of Silver Anniversary V-8's to fit every horsepower need . . . plus a new Mileage Maker Six.

"Six or V-8 the going is good"

What put the magic in the new kind of FORD?

The new Ford Fairlane 500 (114-inch wheelbase). Longer, lower, larger than many medium-priced cars, yet lower in price than most of them!

The roof got lower. And it's designed to let you make the easy entries and graceful exits you've always known.

The body got quieter. It's the strongest body built for a low-priced car. No car in Ford's field has such generous sound-proofing.

The room got bigger. There's head room to spare for a tycoon-type hat. There's real stretch-out leg room, too.

The lines got sweeter. They have the Touch of Tomorrow. Each graceful contour says, "Let's go!"

The style got smarter. With this new look Ford you have a car that belongs everywhere. All Fairlane models look like champions.

The value got greater . . . the price is still Ford-low.
