

THE PER-CO-HI SPECTATOR

By Betsy Stallings, Raiford Copeland, Linda Lou Elliott

The assembly program at Perquimans High School on February 19 consisted of a varied agenda. The Rev. Maurice Grissom of Elizabeth City gave an interesting talk on the "Teenage Code" which is in the process of being organized in our school. This was followed by the presentation of awards to the basketball teams. Mary Pithic and Sally Skinner each received a star, while Jacque Stallings, Linda Tynch, Peggy Spear, Pat Rogerson, Sandra Keel, Pete Cook, Betty York and "Frankie" Hurdle received letters. Two senior boys, Billy Nixon and Freddie Colson, were each awarded a star and the following received letters: Jerry Chappell, Julian Nixon, Ed Nixon, Charlie Fowler, Tommy Tarkington, Ben Gibbs, Glenn White and C. D. White. Brenda Elliott was awarded a letter for keeping score.

On Thursday the Service Club, sponsored a movie entitled "Young Daniel Boone." This was a substitute for the movie which had been previously tively were Willis Williams, Clay Stikes, Jimmy Sullivan, Jack Brinn, Mary Lee Glenn and Allan Bonner. These students had total scores which averaged in the 900's which is the average score throughout the United States.

The Per-Co-Hi Tattler staff is looking forward to the edition of a printed paper around the first of May. It should prove quite interesting since it will be a novelty in the school.

The classes in English IV are quite relieved because they have just completed research themes. It really required a lot of hard work on the part of the students. Now Mrs. Boswell has her hands full, correcting all the major mistakes.

Your three columnists—Stallings, Elliott and Copeland—have been recommended for membership in the Quill and Scroll, the international honorary society for High School journalists.

When the weather forecast was for 28 degrees on Monday night, the Aumans turned on a light in "Skeeter's" doghouse, as has been their custom for several years, in order that the dog might be warm on cold nights. But this one time the light short-circuited. At 6:50 o'clock Tuesday morning the household was awakened with the sounds of dreadful howls and moans, coming from the back yard. Looking out the window, Beth, the 12-year-old, discovered that "Skeeter's" house was on fire and he was locked inside the doghouse. It was she who set off the general alarm throughout the house. Richard jumped from his bed, ran down the stairs (without even his shoes or robe) and out to open the door of the doghouse and pull the unconscious dog from the smouldering fire which by this time was bursting into flames.

There, on the cold ground, lay the black and white dog, special pet of the family for six years. He was completely overcome from the smoke fumes and, for a minute, it looked as if the rescue were too late. But Richard stood over the dog and slowly, methodically, just as he had been taught in Scouting to do, he administered artificial respiration. For perhaps five minutes there seemed no hope—as family and neighbors stood around, helpless. But the boy kept working: push, release, push, release, trying to force air into the lungs. With every push there came a puff of smoke from the dog's nostrils. And then the dog's tail began to wag, just a little at first, and then more strongly as he began to try to tell his master that, at last, the breathing was better. With encouragement, the dog weakly stood up and soon was in the house for further treatment and care, and the fire was safely extinguished by other members of the family.

Now every family that has a pet knows what an important place that pet holds in the hearts of every member of the family. And it is they who will know how grateful the Aumans are for Richard's knowledge of artificial respiration. Maybe it was "just a dog"—but a dog is a boy's best friend! And although there is still some danger of pneumonia setting in, if "tender, loving care" will save the dog, he will soon be well again.

Note Of Importance

Some of those users of gasoline and oils for agriculture are still in arrears in their accounts for the past farming season, and while we certainly have no desire to inconvenience any customer, we do however, have to make collections in order that we can continue service for 1960.

We must ask that these accounts be paid or properly arranged for at a very early date as it is fast nearing the time to begin the new farming season.

We do greatly appreciate the cooperation of those who have been so helpful in these matters and assure you that it is a pleasure to serve you in any way possible.

Thanks to you all for your patronage and cooperation.

Boy's Best Friend

When 15-year-old Explorer Scout Richard Auman spent many hours at swimming and life saving activities in order to earn a merit badge in this field, little did he know that his knowledge about artificial respiration would one day aid in saving the life of his own dog.

"CORVAIR HANDLES BETTER, STEERS MORE EASILY, RESPONDS MUCH MORE QUICKLY AND HOLDS THE ROAD MORE SECURELY THAN ANY STOCK FOUR-DOOR SEDAN EVER MADE IN THE U.S."

—Jim Whipple, Car Life

If you think we're enthusiastic about Corvair, leaf through the leading automotive, sports and science magazines and see what the experts are saying. Then, by all means, drive one yourself.

"Corvair's steering is so light that at parking speeds it feels power assisted; it is so precise as to be absolutely without play, and it is fast enough to allow complete control over every situation."
—Karl Ludvigsen, Sports Cars Illustrated

"Steers like a feather and is extremely quick. . . . This is a beautifully designed automobile, engineered by real pros. . . ."
—Tom McCahill, Mechanix Illustrated

"Corvair's steering is so light that at parking speeds it feels power assisted; it is so precise as to be absolutely without play, and it is fast enough to allow complete control over every situation."
—L. H. Houck, Automotive News

"So far as shopping goes, the Corvair is a housewife's dream. It's small and easily maneuvered without any power steering, and so easily parked . . . it's a lot easier to unload a cart full of groceries into a front trunk at the supermarket than it is into a rear one."
—Rosemary Francis, Popular Science

"There is none of the typical whine normally associated with rear-engine vehicles. Inside the car, the effect is quite unlike anything we have ever experienced. It almost seems that there is no engine, and the general effect is so quiet as to be almost uncanny."
—John R. Bond, Road & Track

"No written word can suffice for the genuine pleasure that you will receive behind the wheel of America's newest and most advanced contribution to transportation. . . . It is a great car."
—Don Stewart, Motor Life

"I want to state as firmly as I can that the Corvair handles as beautifully and is as safe as—if not safer than—any family car on the road today."
—Jim Whipple, Car Life
