

THE PER-CO-HI SPECTATOR

By Betsy Stallings, Raiford Copeland, Linda Lou Elliott

March 11 proved to be an exciting day at Perquimans High School. First of all, the entire student body went to assembly Friday morning to hear the debate between our affirmative team and Edenton's negative team. Everyone was very happy when the judges unanimously selected our affirmative team, Linda Bass and Pe-e Cпок, as the winners. Our negative team, which journeyed to Edenton for the match did not come home with the winning decision but we feel confident that Anne Lant and Carroll McDonnell presented their speeches quite well and really made the judges' decision a tough one.

Friday afternoon was the scheduled date for the basketball game between the eighth grade boys and the ninth grade boys. The eighth grade dominated the game ending with a score of 20-15. Freddie Combs, Francis Combs and Gene Nixon were outstanding players for the eighth grade team.

The Senior class decided at its class meeting on Monday morning to take from the class treas-contestants were: Anne Lane, Linda Kirby and Clara Small. The top three contestants in Typing I and the top one in Typing II will enter the district contest to be held at East Carolina College in April.

"Have A Date," the Senior Class Play, will be presented Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The play has an outstanding cast which has worked very hard under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Skippy. Y'all come! There's a going to be entertainment galore and of course, there will be interesting numbers between acts. Bobby Overton will sing, the Senior Class Missions will have two numbers, and Dianna Divers with Bobby Overton will dance the Charleston. The matinee will be given at 1:45 in the high school auditorium and the student body will supply a large and appreciative audience.

There have been a number of changes within our school during the past few weeks. The Beta Club is no longer selling candy, due to a lunch room regulation, and now must think of a new money making project. Ice cream is now sold at recess which follows homeroom period, rather at the end of second period which made this snack time too near lunch hour. The school cafeteria does not sell separate items any longer. One must buy the entire balanced lunch.

The members of the Beta Club are looking forward to the State Convention which will be at Raleigh this year on April 1-2. Approximately thirty pupils are expected to go.

Another trip which is just around the corner is the annual Senior trip to New York. Everyone who is counting the days on the calendar will find that there are only 15 school days left (as of March 18) before the Trailway bus leaves Hertford for Washington and New York. Thirty-eight Seniors are planning to make this trip.

Miss Cynthia Ann Mendinghall of East Carolina College, who is actually responsible for the organization of ping-pong at P.C.H.S., has again favored our school by supplying us with discarded ping-pong paddles. After repair, many of these will be used for practice play.
