Take Time To Vote

Saturday is a very important day for the citizens of our county and state.

A great deal of interest has been manifested in the primary election coming up tomorrow and we urge all registered voters to take time out, go to the polls, and vote for the candidates of their choice.

It has been a number of years since we have seen so much interest shown in some of the political races as this year, so we hope this interest will carry over and voters will exercise their privilege by voting on Saturday.

Memorial Day

When the commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, General John A. Logan, issued the order designating May 30th, 1868, as a day for decorating the graves of the men who fell in the War Between the States, he expressed the hope that it would be observed "from year to year while a survivor of the war remains to honor the memory of the departed."

The custom of thus paying homage to the war dead, which had originated in the South and represented at that time only spontaneous local activity on the part of a relatively few women and children thus came into being.

The appeal of such an annual commemoration to large numbers of people was soon demonstrated throughout the reunited Republic.

By 1900, President William McKinley, himself a Union veteran, declared, "The army of Grant and the Army of Lee are together. They are one now in faith, in hope, in fraternity, in purpose and in invincible patriotism."

Memorial Day, observed annually since that time, reminds us that human freedom was bought at a great price, and that anything we would have here in this country must be obtained and preserved by hard work and consecrated effort.

Get Something For Your Vacation $$$

As the primary vacation season of the year approaches, you might keep in mind the fact that it is possible to get something for your vacation dollar. It is also possible to be bilked by those who would take advantage of the once-a-year vacationer.

One of the simple and amazing mistakes some people make is to start out on a vacation without advance reservations at the point of their destination. When they get there, they are at the mercy of the situation which exists, and as a result, many of them spend more money than they should.

Many of the winter vacation playgrounds of the rich are available to all of us during the primary vacation period of America—the summer. We suggest that all those who like swimming, sunshine, etc., take advantage of the bargain rates which are being offered by hotels and motels in the southern climes.

If your vacation is to be spent in the mountains, investigate the government parks, which offer facilities at surprisingly reasonable prices. A little advance planning will pay off in a reservation which will save you a lot of money. The only other piece of advice we have for prospective vacationers is to start in time, so that they will not have to hurry. It is shocking how many vacations end up in death for the vacationer—death on the highways, where about 35,000 Americans are slaughtered each year, and well over 100,000 seriously injured.

To admire on principle is the only way to imitate without loss of originality. —Samuel Taylor Coleridge.

Sunday School Lesson

RICH TOWARD GOD International Sunday School Lesson for May 29.

Memory Selection: "Lay up yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust consumes and where thieves do not break in and steal. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also."—Matthew 6:20-21.

Lesson Text: Matthew 6:19-34; Luke 12:13-34.

In our lesson this week we should seriously face this question: "What is the Christian standard of values?"

Jesus was firmly convinced that "things" are dangerous for the spiritual life for some people because we are inclined to keep thinking about our possessions. A man who is continually mulling over his business in his mind soon discovers that he is a possessed man—his businesses possess him, instead of the other way around.

We are reminded of Peter and John, who were going to the temple one day. Both were without money as they were approached by a beggar asking for alms. Peter said to this man in need: "I have no silver and gold, but I give you what I have; in the name of Jesus Christ..." (Acts 3:6). Peter had an inner quality, an inner spirit or power, that far surpassed monetary values.

We in this gay and age need this lesson, too. We have placed too much emphasis on getting money. We need to let our youth be taught by precept and by example that money and possessions are of value only as instruments for the good life. They have no intrinsic value in themselves.

In Matthew 6:22 we read: "So, if your eye is sound, your whole body will be full of light." Jesus here is emphasizing the value of singleness of purpose. He knew that man needs integration. Integration comes about when a man centers his life on one thing. Unfortunately some center their lives on one earthly thing; a house, a home, a family, a child, a business, a family estate, a party, or a club. Jesus, however, in his infinite wisdom, knew that these small things, these small purposes, often let one down. True and lasting integration comes only when one builds his hopes on God and lives continually in his presence. The man whose life is centered in Christ subordinates all else to this one great and abiding Cause and Being.

Jesus said: "You cannot serve God and Mammon." (Matthew 6:24b). Mammon, translated quite literally, means "property." He who thinks continually about his property simply has no time to think of the greater issues of life. He has no time to think about eternity, and all its vast and awesome implications, nor does he build for eternity. Strangely enough, we who are the only creatures of our earth who have the potentialities of eternity, fail to build for that one event. The kingdom of God is not a place, but a state or condition in which the mind and soul exist.

Only too often our view does not include that which God sees. We look beyond, or in front of, his concerns. Consider, just for one moment, what evils would be eliminated if we but took the time to look through the "spectacles of God," so to speak—to see things as his eyes would interpret them!

Jesus is getting at the very heart of our needs in this wonderful sermon. We must take these teachings seriously. These are indeed the marks of the citizens of the kingdom of God.

Jesus years that men may put their trust in God, not become anxious (distracted) over things. Things, alas, so distract, distort, twist, corrupt, blind and drive mankind. We sorely need to remember the rock from which we were hewn—the rock which is from God himself, in whose image we are made. Fundamentally we are both moral and spiritual beings. We have much more important things to do than merely be concerned with drinking and feasting.

Let man fulfill his nature, and God will care for him. And what is his nature? Have we not already answered that question when, as we have just noted, we claim he is made in the image of God? He is made for truth, justice, mercy, kindness.

STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURE

Mr. Welling mows his lawn every Saturday—he and his two assistants.

Technically, it's a one-man operation. But not to Billy and Jean. They insist on helping.

And, what is more, they NEED to help! Imitating what Daddy does is standard operating procedure for children. It's an essential part of growing up.

Remember this need as another Sunday approaches. You are alarmed over the spread of delinquency. You are determined that your children have adequate religious education.

The Church can provide all but one of the essentials in religious education. THE EXAMPLE which affords real incentive for your children's every effort MUST COME FROM YOU.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH! The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Please go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Table with columns: Day, Book, Chapter, Verse. Rows: Sunday (Psalms 64, 6:13), Monday (Psalms 26, 7:1), Tuesday (II Corinthians 12, 14-15), Wednesday (Titus 2, 1-2), Thursday (I Timothy 2, 14-18), Friday (I Timothy 4, 11-18), Saturday (I Timothy 6, 11-19).
