

KNOW YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

Earl W. Trinkle, representative of the Social Security Administration, is in Edenton every Thursday at the North Carolina Employment Security Commission office in the Citicorp Bank Building.

If you had a $20,000 life insurance policy and wanted to be sure that your wife would receive this money in case of your death, would you neglect paying the premiums? Of course you wouldn't. Do you always compare your own check book with your bank's records when you receive your monthly statement from the bank? Here again, the answer is obvious. Banks rarely make mistakes, but it is still good business to check the records and correct any errors. But, what about your Social Security?

The value of your social security account may be worth more than your bank deposits and life insurance combined. The exact value depends on several things—your annual earnings, how long you have worked, the dependents in your family, etc. But for some of you, this account may be worth $10,000, $20,000, or even $40,000 to you and your family in potential disability, old-age, or survivor benefits. This kind of money is worth protecting, isn't it?

If you are a man born after 1905, or a woman born after 1908, you will need 10 years of work under social security to qualify for retirement benefits. If you have worked at least ten years, but have credit for only nine, what then? All your retirement benefits might be lost. Since you don't want this to happen, here are three simple steps to protect your social security account:

1. If you work for someone else, be sure your employer has a correct record of your name, social security number, and that he deducts your social security tax from your paychecks.
2. If you work for yourself, be sure your accountant includes a report of your self-employment income on your annual income tax return; and that he shows your correct name, social security number, and amount of your profits on Schedule SE attached to that return.
3. At least once every three years, write to the Social Security Administration for a statement of your earnings. A special post card form for this purpose may be secured from any district office of the Social Security Administration. Then, if

There is other dust that is just as good for control of leafhoppers. Five per cent methoxychlor dust at the rate of 20 to 25 pounds to the acre will control leafhoppers and peanut hay dusted with methoxychlor at the present time is acceptable by the dairymen.

If you are one of the farmers that are planning to sell peanut hay this fall, be sure and consider dusting with methoxychlor instead of DDT and you will probably have a better market for your hay.

Farm News

By I. M. THOMPSON,
County Agent

A wool pool will be held at Sermon's Warehouse in Washington, N. C., on Monday morning, June 20.

Many farmers from Perquimans County have participated in this wool pool for the past several years and have found that selling on a grade basis is a good way to sell wool.

For the past several years the agricultural agents have secured the use of a truck to carry the wool to the wool pool, and in this way have given many farmers the opportunity to participate in the pool when actually the amount of wool they had to sell did not make it worthwhile to drive to Washington.

For those that would like to pool their wool in the county, the truck will be at the Agricultural Building in Hertford on Saturday morning, June 18, from 8 to 10 A. M. If you wish for your wool to be sent on the truck, be sure to have the wool tied in bags and each bag plainly labeled with your name and address and the number of bags you are sending on each tag.

In case you have not heard the price of wool this year, it is as follows: Clean wool, 57.02; short wool, 54.02; stained wool, 55.02; coarse wool, 52.02; reject wool, 50.02; medium burry, 46.02; light burry, 50.02; heavy burry, 42.02; jag, 12.00; lamb's wool, 44.02.

Remember, the wool that will be sent on the truck will be loaded on Saturday, June 18, at the Agricultural Building in Hertford.

There has been a lot of discussion about using DDT on peanuts for leafhoppers and then selling the hay. It is a known fact that peanut hay that has been dusted with DDT and fed to dairy cattle will put traces of DDT in the milk, and dairymen are discouraged from purchasing this hay.

New Vet Pension Law Will Go In Effect On July 1

All veterans and their dependents who qualify for VA pensions after July 1 will be governed entirely by provisions of the new pension law, which becomes effective on that day.

The Veterans Administration said, however, that veterans and veterans' dependents who are already receiving pensions may either stay under the old law or elect to come under terms of the new law. The choice is solely up to them.

Once a pension recipient elects the new law he or she can never return to the old law. But the pension recipient can delay choosing to come under the new law as long as he or she may wish, VA explained.

VA has mailed an instruction pamphlet and a card on which to make the choice, to each person now receiving pension. If the pension recipient after studying the pamphlet carefully decides to remain under terms of the old law, he or she should not send the card back to VA.

If VA does not receive the card on the subject, it will automatically continue paying the pension under terms of the old receiving pension decides to choose the new law, he or she should send the completed card in to VA as soon as possible, in order to get advantage of any higher payment rates from the effective date of the new law.

ASK YOURSELF THIS QUESTION

Can a North Carolina Governor Close the Schools?

THE ANSWER:

Here is what Dr. Lake said: "Mr. Sanford says my proposal for developing a climate of public opinion in North Carolina against the NAACP will lead to closed schools. Mr. Sanford is a lawyer and he knows no Governor can close public schools in North Carolina. No matter who is elected your next Governor the public schools will be kept open. The Constitution of our state requires the State to operate a uniform system of public schools except in those districts where the people themselves, in a public election vote to close them. Whether I am elected your next Governor or Mr. Sanford is your choice, the public schools of North Carolina will be operated with all the money the Legislature appropriates for that purpose, unless and until you the people of North Carolina vote to close them."
