

County HD Women Give Report On Trip

Pritchard played the organ. Dr. Howard P. Powell, pastor of the Edenton Street Methodist Church of Raleigh, gave us a very inspiring devotion. Greetings were extended to us from Dr. John T. Caldwell, Chancellor, N. C. State College; Robert W. Shoffner, Director Agricultural Extension Service, and L. Y. Ballentine, Commissioner.

"They commended the club members for the fine work and the progress they had made over the years and hoped that we would take advantage of the many opportunities available to us during the week to broaden our knowledge of State College, of our State and our Nation, so that we may not only help ourselves, but may be of greater service to mankind. The highlight of the evening was a reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. David S. Weaver, former Director of Agriculture Extension Service, who has resigned, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Shoffner—Mr. Shoffner is replacing Mr. Weaver. A beautiful silver tray was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Weaver. Mr. Weaver expressed his thanks and appreciation to the organization.

"After going through the receiving line, we were served delicious punch and a variety of cookies. By this time everybody was ready to look for a bed. This had been a long and full day for most of us.

"Wednesday and Thursday we were privileged to attend Special Interest Classes. We truly feel grateful and honored to have been able to attend these classes.

"A tea was given at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Brock James. Wednesday night the District Leadership Awards were presented by J. Gordon Christian, vice president of A. & P. Tea Company. We were also fortunate to have the Barber Shop Quartet of the Greensboro Chapter. They were introduced by Mrs. Fred Mathews, State Music Chairman.

"A musical program was presented by Dr. Valdemar Benson, Blue Ridge Road, Raleigh. He grew up as a child in Russia and studied opera. After coming to the United States he became a doctor. Thursday night after the musical program we were treated with a watermelon cutting.

"The last day of our Farm Home Week arrived. The 35th Annual Meeting of the North Carolina Home Demonstration Clubs met in the Coliseum with Mrs. David Williams, president, presiding and Mrs. M. T. Griffin of Edenton, Recording Secretary.

"A very inspiring devotion was given by Mrs. George Frady, second vice president, Haywood County. A very warm welcome was given by Miss Ruth Current, Assistant Director of Home Economics of N. C. State College. Greetings were graciously extended to us by Dr. William C. Friday, president of the University of North Carolina, and Dr. H. B. James, Dean of Agriculture. The State report, 'And In Today, Already Walks Tomorrow,' was given in high spirit of eagerness and enthusiasm by Mrs. H. C. Little, first vice president, Lincoln County.

"The speaker for the morning was Mrs. Doris Betts, Tarheel author and short story writer from Sanford, N. C. Her topic was 'A Bumper Crop of Tarheels Reading.' She spoke to the group saying, 'being well-read is as important as being well-fed.'

At the conclusion of the program, Miss Ruth Current, assistant director of home economics of N. C. State College's agriculture extension, told the group she was retiring August 31 after 33 years of service. She was given a beautiful silver punch bowl.

"It has been a wonderful four days of walking in the rain, almost 'stewing' in classes and trying to catch an extra forty winks of sleep. But, this can mean so little to us if we do not take it back home with us. Others need to know of the wonderful inspiration which Farm Home Week brings to us. May we each share our experiences with our fellow club members, and inspire others as we have been inspired by Farm Home Week."

Openings Announced For Prison Guards

Immediate job openings for prison guards in this vicinity have been announced by Buell A. Bailey, manager of the Edenton Employment Security Commission office.

The local office manager said the drive to recruit guards in this area is part of an effort taking place all over the State to fill 125 new guard positions each month to reduce working hours in the Prison Department.

After passing initial screening, applicants will be interviewed by a committee from the Prison Department. These interviews will take place at EST offices in Elizabeth City, Greenville, Wilmington, Durham, Fayetteville, Greensboro, Asheboro, Winston-Salem, Albemarle, North Wilkesboro, Lincolnton, Hendersonville and Asheville.

Salaries for the jobs begin at $3,132 and rise to a maximum of $4,200 annually.

The ESC manager said all applicants should be between the ages of 21 and 45, in good physical condition, with at least a ninth grade education (high school preferred), and have no police record of arrests. All applicants will be required by the Prison Department to pass a short series of screening tests to be administered by the ESC.

Interested applicants should contact the Edenton Employment Security Commission Office for screening, testing and referral to the nearest office to be interviewed by a committee from the Prison Department.
