

Baking Contest For Teen-agers

Teenagers from 13 to 19 have a unique opportunity starting today to bake their way to the colleges of their choice in a new and educational baking competition sponsored by Pyrofax Gas Corporation, marketers of bottled gas for both household and industrial use.

The contest offers three $1,500 college scholarships, plus a possible $500 cash bonus in each instance; and 111 other prizes that bring the value of the awards to more than $22,000.

Entry blanks for the contest may be obtained in this area from the local Pyrofax Gas Distributor, Harrell Gas & Coal Co., of Hertford of which Chas. M. Harrell, Jr., is distributor.

The rules of the competition are simple to follow. The contestant first writes down his or her favorite baked recipe, describing the measurements and ingredients accurately. Then, the contestant is asked to write a short essay in 100 words or fewer on the topic, "Why I Want To Go To College."

The essay will be the first of the contest and from these who are chosen winners, the winners will then attend a Bake-Off to be held in Goldsboro on November 18 and 19 at which time 24 contestants will compete. The Regional Bake-Off will be held in Raleigh when 12 areas compete there on December 16.

Mr. Harrell stated that contestants may enter as many recipes as they wish, provided that each entry blank is accompanied by a separate recipe and separate essay. All material must be original, and no packaged recipes will be accepted.

In addition to the supply at the Pyrofax Gas distributor's showroom, entry blanks may also be obtained in this area at local motion picture theatres where "Susan Slade" will be shown.

This forthcoming Warner Bros. film stars Connie Stevens and Troy Donahue, who are featured on all posters and entry blanks for the contest. In addition, a supply of entry blanks will be found at record shops where Connie Stevens' records are sold.

More than 800 essays will be selected at the outset by the judges, and their authors will then be notified of the time and place in their area where one of 36 local baking competitions will take place.

Prizes here will include silver bowls and 32-piece sets of stainless flatware arranged in a service for eight. At these competitions each teen will have an opportunity to prepare his or her favorite recipe for a board of judges.

Finally, the 36 top winners from the local competitions will be sent to one of three Contest Grand Finals that will take place in three different cities on successive Saturdays: December 2 in Albany, N. Y.; December 9 in Indianapolis, Ind.; and December 16 in Raleigh, N. C.

Each of the 36 finalists will receive transportation to and from the Contest Grand Finals for themselves and one adult companion. In addition, each will receive a $10 allowance to cover the cost of cooking utensils and ingredients necessary to the baking of the recipe submitted.

And here are the prizes that will be awarded to winners at the finals in the three cities: three $1,500 scholarships to the college of the winner's choice; a $500 bonus if the winner's household is already a Pyrofax Gas user; a Caloric gas range valued at $500, and an identical range that will be presented to the home economics classroom of the winner's school.

Runners-up will divide 12 Caloric gas ranges valued at $500 and 21 transistor radio sets.

Lynhaven Man Escapes Death

James Bandalos, a 38 year old Lynhaven, Va., man, narrowly escaped possible death in Hertford Monday afternoon shortly after 5 o'clock when he failed to make the curve approach at the south end of the Hertford bridge and rammed his truck between the bridge and a power line pole.

According to State Highway Patrolman B. R. Inscow, who investigated the accident, Bandalos was traveling north at the time of the accident. His truck collided with the bridge abutment on the right side and the left side of the truck struck the in Edenton, where he was treated for a broken ankle, also side of a power pole line where laceration of the face and forehead is a slight drop-off. The man was taken by ambulance to the Chowan Hospital.

Considerable damage was done to the front end and frame of the truck.

Bandalos was charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicants.
