

Unit Holds Awards Night

On Monday night, April 17, at 7:30 o'clock the Perquimans County Marching Band held its annual Awards Night in the high school cafeteria. The night consisted of a meeting of the Parents Club, the instructors of the girls. Dollo White, Parents Club president, called the meeting to order. The business was discussed and entertainment was provided by Donna Talley, Mary Beth Proctor, and a senior girls in the band. Then the girls were given recognition for the completion of a very successful year. Mrs. Eugene Dyer had the pleasure of giving out awards to the girls. Nineteen members of the Marching Unit received certificates for one year of participation in the Unit. Letters were earned by 14 of the girls for two years of service and notes were received by eight of the girls. These notes were given to the girls who had already gotten a letter and had satisfactorily completed either three or four years in the Unit. The seniors who have been in the Unit for four years, since its formation, are Aileen Beck, Pam Cox and Carolyn White. One of the girls, Linda Winslow, was honored at the meeting by being the recipient of a lovely trophy. This "Miss Congeniality" trophy was given to Linda by a majority vote of the girls themselves. After the awards were all given out, the Parents Club served refreshments.

This was an eventful night, one in which the girls received recognition for a faithful year of service to the county. The awards have been received, but the work has not stopped. The Unit is currently practicing for the Horse Show Parade here Saturday and their performance next Saturday in Norfolk's Azalea Festival Parade. They are Mrs. Harrell, president, Mr. Cecil Edward Winslow, vice president; Mrs. George Fields, secretary, and Mrs. William Sawyer, treasurer. Following the acceptance of the recommendations of the executive board, Mr. James P. Mr. Harrell thanked the PTA for the cooperation he and the school had received this past year. He invited the parents to visit the classrooms and to visit the library to see the new books given by the PTA. Miss Mary Sumner's 6th grade won the attendance banner.
